United Way's allocations set record

Record allocations to agencies for operating costs during the 1978 calendar year were voted by the Tri-Cities Area United Way board of directors at a quarterly meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Disbursements totaling $329,441 were approved on the recommendation of the budget committee, headed by John "Jerry" McDonald, Trust and Savings Bank vice president. The meeting took place in the YMCA auditorium.

United Way President

William F. Winter, editor of the Press-Record, presided and presented an award to John Blasingame, general chairman of the annual fall campaign. He is assistant to the Illinois Power Co. service area manager.

Blasingame was cited for leading the most successful United Way drive in local history. With a goal of $508,250, the campaign garnered pledges that have reached $545,000 and may exceed $550,000, he reported. All divisions topped their quotas.

The campaign leader presented plaques to Drive Vice-Chairman William P. Donovan and the division chairmen present, Jack Lee, Al Miller, Ronald Coleman, Raymond Snelson Jr., Al T. Barnes III and Mickey Chastovich, the latter representing Arthur A. Kuhlman.

Other division chairmen will receive similar awards. They are E. A. Karandjeff, Melvin C. Williams, Jason Blake, Darryl Slater, Joseph Simpson and Mrs. Winnie Sasyk.

Non-binding arbitration

Granite City Council members agreed Tuesday night to a Police Union proposal to arbitrate differences in a new three-year working agreement — with the understanding that the mediation will not be binding upon the city.

Alderman Warren Decatur of Ward Four, chairman of the council's negotiating committee, presented a letter from Craig Noon, secretary of police Union Local 1347, asking that the council agree to a "federal or state mediator taking part in negotiations for a new working agreement."

After a motion by Decatur that the aldermen concur in the request, Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward asked if the results of negotiations through a mediator would be binding upon the council.

"If it is," Whitmer said, "I'm against it."

Clyde Boyd, alderman of the council's negotiating committee, presented a letter from Craig Noon, secretary of police Union Local 1347, asking that the council agree to a "federal or state mediator taking part in negotiations for a new working agreement."

Freezing rain warning and travelers advisory this afternoon and tonight. Chance of thunderstorms with rain changing to snow this afternoon. Pinned in as car overturns; other crashes on icy streets

Bad weather and icy streets were blamed for numerous mishaps and injuries in the Quad-City area this week, including an accident in which an 18-year-old was seriously injured on Old Alton Road at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Jay Lance, 18, of 2809 Circle Drive, is in Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, with possible head injuries after his van went out of control on ice and turned on its side on Old Alton Road about one-quarter mile north of Maryville Road Tuesday.

Lance said he was northbound when a blue auto crossed into his lane, forcing him to apply his van's brakes. The van then went out of control on the ice, hit a rut in the road and turned on its side.

Lance was pinned in the van and the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department Rescue Squad had to cut out the vehicle's steering wheel in order to remove him.

New grain pelletizing plant here

The Tri-City Regional Port District Board today announced that the I. S. Joseph Company of Minneapolis, Minn., will construct a grain pelletizing plant at the port.

The new plant will be built in conjunction with facilities owned by the Tri-City Port and operated by the Granite City Terminals Corporation.

Under the agreement, Granite City Terminals, a subsidiary of St. Louis Terminals Corp., will operate the new I. S. Joseph plant. The 30,000-sq-ft structure, 65 feet high, is to be constructed at waterside on the Chain of Rocks Canal in the Tri-City Harbor.

Existing buildings will be renovated and utilized for plant operation by Granite City Terminals. Other im-

Sewer repair funds in peril

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Use of Community Development funds for rebuilding broken sanitary sewer lines in the Nameoki area will be terminated under new project guidelines established by the Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD), Mayor Paul Schuler informed Granite City Council members in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

As a result, the mayor said, a total of $270,000 budgeted for sewer rehabilitation work in the new Community Development program may not be used for that type of work.

"This is a serious problem," he told the council. "It means we are going to have to find other funding sources to continue the replacement or repair of broken sewer lines."

"We are now employing ten men with Community Development funds as a major part of the city sewer division's work which has been highly successful over the past two years. If we keep all of these workers we will need to find ways to pay them," the mayor said.

Schuler said that HUD's decision denying eligibility of the sewer rehabilitation project for Community Development funds has been appealed, "but we have done this before and have little reason to expect a decision in our favor."

Freezing rain halts school buses today

More bad weather moved into the Quad-City area today, along with threatening weather forecasts that resulted in school closings and cancellation of many activities.

Freezing rain slowed traffic during the morning rush hour and the National Weather Service predicted a variety of severe weather today — including freezing rain, thunderstorms, two to four inches of snow and a drop in temperature to above zero tonight.

Hazardous traffic conditions this morning resulted in the closing of Venice Schools and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Both had remained open during the heavy snow and icy roadways.

Granite City schools and those in Madison were open today.

Snow routes picked

An ordinance establishing snow routes in Granite City was given final passage by the City Council in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Basically, the measure provides city officials with enforcement measures necessary to keep certain streets clear of parked vehicles during emergency weather conditions, or upon a threat of such conditions.

The bill designates the street superintendent as the snow route supervisor and provides that he may declare a prohibition of parking on streets designated as part of the snow routes.

Madison and the trip would be issued on the basis of falling snow, sleet or freezing rain, or on the basis of a forecast by the United States Weather Bureau or other weather service, according to the measure.

A parking prohibition automatically will go into effect on any part of any snow emergency route on which there has been an accumulation of snow, or ice of one inch or more for one hour as measured by the U.S. Weather Bureau, or so designated by the coordinator, the ordinance says.

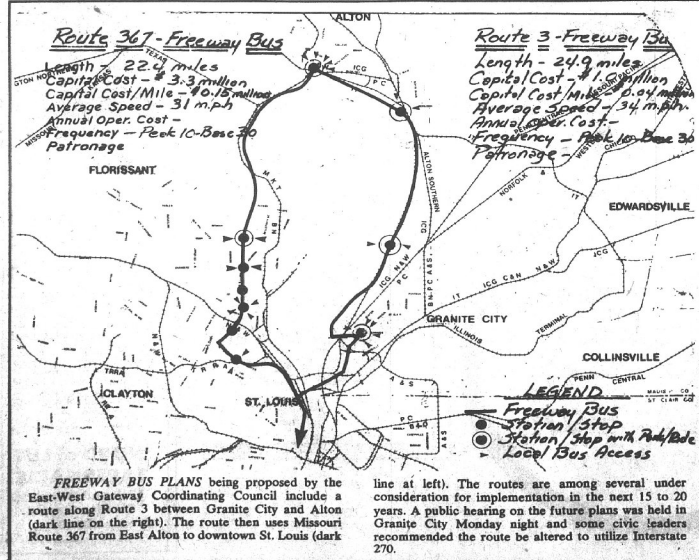

The bill provides it is a violation of the ordinance for a motorist to permit his vehicle to become stalled on any part of the snow route because of failure to have snow tires or chains.

Regardless of the reason for becoming stalled, it also is a violation of the ordinance to abandon a stalled car on any part of the snow streets. Stalled cars must be towed immediately or pushed to the nearest cross road and off the snow route, the bill states.

The snow coordinator "shall cause each declaration of a snow route emergency... to be publicly announced by means of broadcasts or otherwise, from stations with a normal operating range covering the city, and he may cause such declaration to be further announced in newspapers of general circulation when feasible," the ordinance notes.

The bill also states that provisions of the ordinance on snow route streets will take precedence over other normal

Rail transit here called too costly

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Belleville to Granite City to St. Louis "corridor" is not populated enough to support any kind of local mass transit by rail, a handful of Quad-City residents was told during a public hearing on mass transit in the Granite City Hall Monday night.

Planners from the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, who conducted the hearing, explained the future of mass transit on the Illinois side of the St. Louis metropolitan region for at least the next 15 years seems to be dependent upon increased and improved bus service.

Vernor Foster, public information assistant for the Gateway Council, and R. C. Johnson, a consultant to the Gateway Council, said the study showed massive costs of up to $4.8 million per mile to construct the least-expensive type of trolley car facilities, and estimated a trolley system from Belleville to East St. Louis, a distance of 16.1 miles, would involve initial capital cost of at least $68.2 million and the trolley system would cost about $2,868,100 per year to operate.

Other types of rail facilities studied would make 11 stops between the southeastern tip of Belleville and downtown East St. Louis, and the trip would take 44 minutes. The average speed of the trains would be 22 miles-per-hour, including the stops.

The number of persons who would use the rail facilities would not offset the enormous capital investment plus the annual operating expenses, Brown concluded. It also was noted that the higher the fares are raised to meet the expenses, the fewer people would use the rail line for transportation.

While rail facilities in the area do not appear practical in the near future, improvements aimed at making bus transportation more comfortable and convenient are being studied in detail by the Gateway Transportation committee for recommendations to the Gateway Council's board of directors, Foster said.

He noted the Gateway board then would make recommendations to Bi-State Development Agency and other groups to try to improve mass transit here.

"Bi-State is planning ahead five years. East-West Gateway is looking 15 to 20 years from now to determine what we will need then and what we should do now to get there," he added.

Currently, five funding sources contribute to mass transit in this area — U.S. Urban Mass Transit Administration, St. Louis City, St. Louis County, the state of Illinois and Bi-State Development Corp.

Using basically the same funding sources, planners are predicting mass transit improvements can be made in the future, including some light-rail or trolley systems on the Missouri side of the river to serve more populated areas, it was contended.

Under study are rail systems to serve eight Missouri areas, including a downtown St. Louis system, mostly above ground. A combination surface and above-ground system is being considered for the Florissant, Clayton, Lemay corridor and a surface system is being considered from Normandy to Forest Park.

A combination surface and above-ground system from Interstate 70 south along Kingshighway, and an above-ground rail system from Interstate 70 south along Grand Avenue also are among the alternatives being studied for north-south movement.

Three primary east-west rail routes are proposed for consideration — along Martin Luther King Drive, Forest Park Parkway and Gravois.

Despite any rail improvements can be made in the State Representative James McPike, Alton Democrat, will address the Piassa Palisades Group of the Sierra Club at its monthly meeting Monday, Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Alton.

Subject of his talk will be "My Year in the Illinois House as a Freshman Legislator."

"The representative has opposed non-returnable can and bottle deposit charges. He voted to cut funding for the Illinois Nature Preserves Commission, and has backed use of high-sulfur coal," the Piassa Group says.

McPike is seeking renomination and reelection next year. A graduate of Marquette High School and the U.S. Naval Academy, he holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Jacksonville University (Fla.) and a master's degree in economics from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The former Naval pilot was a sales engineer for a nationwide corporation prior to his election to the General Assembly in 1976. The Piassa Palisades Group of the Sierra Club represents a 13-county area of Southwestern Illinois. The club is an international conservation and environmental organization. The meeting is open to the public.

McPike running, cites committee experience

State Representative Jim McPike (D-Alton) has announced he will seek a second term in the Illinois House of Representatives from the 56th Legislative District.

McPike is finishing the first year of his freshman term. He is a member of four House committees — Appropriations, Financial Institutions, Insurance and Motor Vehicles — and four commissions (Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities, Aeronautics Advisory, Physical Fitness and the Legislative Council).

He has prepared position papers on twelve issues that the General Assembly will face and said that of these the most important are the economy and education.

He said, "The basic cause of many social problems is a degrading, demoralizing disease called unemployment. The cure is a decent job."

In regard to education, McPike said "full funding" in years to come is "meaningless" because — under the present state school aid formula — many school districts in the area will receive less money next year than they received this year.

As a freshman legislator, McPike helped sponsor three House bills and five Senate bills that are now law. Included in this package is the Governor's Council on Health and Physical Fitness, whose purpose is to promote physical fitness among citizens of all ages throughout Illinois.

As a full-time legislator, McPike said he has kept extremely busy in Springfield and in his two district offices in Granite City and Alton.

He was involved recently in a dispute between the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and Alton Box Board Co. and is currently investigating problems Beverly Farms has with the Department of Public Health.

In an attempt to keep in touch with his constituents, McPike visited 1,000 homes in the district between early July and late October.

McPike graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1965 and Jacksonville University in Florida in 1970 and holds a master's degree in economics from SIUE.

He spent five years in the Navy as a jet pilot and seven years in industry as a sales-engineer with the 3M Co. He lives in Alton with his wife, Carol Ann, and children, Susan, Jimmy and Katy.

Rep. McPike believes that "many of the people of the 56th District have been taxed to the point of saturation. An inequitable tax system can be tolerated no longer."

"A move is under way in Congress to reform the federal income tax, closing unjust loopholes and making it more equitable for all. As a legislator in the Illinois House of Representatives, I will initiate such action on the state level."

"Taxes should be an equal burden on all citizens. The most equitable tax is a progressive income tax."

"The most inequitable taxes are sales taxes on food and medicine, and real estate taxes. A few examples illustrate how unfair these latter two taxes are."

"All property in Illinois is by law assessed at 33 1/3 percent of its fair market value. This means that if you own a house valued at $1 million you do not have to pay taxes on $667,000 of this."

"If you own a house valued at $10,000, you do not have to pay taxes on $6,667 of this. The rich owner receives a very large writeoff while the poor person receives a very small writeoff."

"The same holds true for the sales tax. A person earning $10,000 a year spends approximately $2,500 on food and medicine, and thus pays a sales tax on 25 percent of earned income."

"A person earning $100,000 a year spends less than $10,000 on food and medicine, and then pays sales taxes on less than 10 percent of earned income. This is not equitable."

"The poor have a much heavier burden than the rich. As a legislator, I will work for the elimination of these regressive taxes, so that all citizens of Illinois will pay their fair share."

"While working for equitable tax reform, I will oppose tax increases unless they are absolutely necessary to provide vital services."

AIRMAN DOUGLAS SMITH

"One of the accomplishments of the 80th General assembly has been holding the line on government spending. There has been no state tax increase in Illinois in over five years."

"With revenues increasing approximately $500 million annually, we should be able to meet our social needs without increasing our tax rates," he concludes.

2838 Cayuga St., broke her right ankle in a fall about 9 a.m. Tuesday.
The emergency room also treated a 13-year-old boy who bumped his head in a sledding accident and a 58-year-old man who suffered chest pains while working on his auto in the cold.
Barbara Cook, 6, of 200 Veight Place, Mitchell, also was treated after she slipped on ice and ran into the side of a van, then falling down. She suffered injuries to her right foot and right hip and multiple abrasions, but was released after emergency room treatment.
Harwell Schrader, 16, of 5116 Maryville Road, was injured when his auto went out of control on ice on Lake Drive a half-mile north of Garden Lane at 4:50 p.m. Monday.

The northbound car turned 180 degrees and slid into a tree on the east side of the road. Schrader was taken by his father to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted for observation with a bump to his forehead and an abrasion to his right hand.
The ice also contributed to a train-truck accident at West Pontoon Road and Missouri Avenue (formerly Route 3), at 6:40 p.m. Tuesday.
Paul Accardi, 45, of Rural Route One, Box 122, Granite City, said he was driving east on West Pontoon Road and went through the intersection on a green light before he noticed a train approaching on the nearby crossing. He attempted to stop, but his truck slid on ice into the side of the train's engine. He was not seriously injured.

The ice and snow also were blamed for an accident resulting in injuries to one woman. The auto of James Schoenhardt, 34, of 1637 Primrose Ave., was southbound on Cleveland Boulevard approaching the stop sign at 48th Street, and skidded out of control into the parked car of Lavern Larsen, 2007 Manley Ave.
Mrs. Brenda Schoenhardt, a passenger, bumped her head and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for mild cervical strain and was released.
Snowdrifts stopped two buses of school children this week, but help was quickly dispatched and the children were not affected by the cold temperatures.

A bus containing 13 children became stuck in a snowdrift on Sand Prairie Lane near Route 111 Tuesday morning, but two farmers living nearby donated their time and equipment and pulled the bus clear with two farm tractors.
Another bus became stuck Wednesday morning on Cemetery Road near Route 3 and West Pontoon Road, but was pulled out in a short time and the children in the bus were not exposed to the cold.
The delays put both buses behind in their schedules and other routes were late, as a result, and some children were exposed to the cold while waiting for their buses.
Another bus incident not related to the snow occurred when a bus carrying kindergarten children broke down at Pontoon and Johnson roads at 12:20 p.m. Tuesday. A repairman was dispatched and repaired the bus.
A spokesman for the R.W. Harmon & Sons bus line, in discussing the winter problems, noted that iceballs thrown at school buses is a major winter problem.
"During the last snowstorm, we had a complete bus windshield knocked out by a large iceball," a spokesman said.
"Rarely is there a snowstorm when we do not have reports of windows broken or buses dented by snowballs. Broken windows and flying glass inside the bus are very dangerous and we hope anyone seeing children throwing snowballs at school buses will immediately call the authorities," he added.
A spokesman for the AAA

Auto Club of Missouri said more than 4,000 calls for aid were taken at its office. The number of calls exceeded those received on the worst day during last winter's storms.
Interstate 70 in Illinois was particularly treacherous. Tractor-trailer trucks were jackknifed in the median or on the side of the road from East St. Louis eastward for 100 miles to Interstate 57 at Effingham.
Because of the hazardous conditions caused by the ice-covered roads, many trucks were stalled on the I-70 overpass above Illinois Route 157, near Collinsville.
Other truckers, warned by citizen band radio operators, pulled their rigs to the side of the highway to wait until the road was cleared.
The Missouri Highway Patrol said a massive tie-up occurred early Tuesday morning eastbound Interstate 270, stretching from Lilac Avenue near the Chain of Rocks Bridge on the Missouri side, to the Mississippi River, east to Illinois Route 3, north of Granite City, a distance of about five miles.
The patrol said the problem was a steep and slick hill near Lilac. "We couldn't even get a salt truck in there because of all the traffic," a spokesman said.
From 11 p.m. Monday until early Tuesday, the Illinois State Police at Maryville, reported at least 35 accidents occurred in their area.
Most of the accidents involved trucks that jackknifed, police said. More than 15 tow trucks were dispatched to help stranded and stalled vehicles.
Monday night's snowfall measured 2.6 inches at 11 p.m. Chain of Rocks locks where weather records are maintained for the Corps of Army Engineers.
The snow followed .66 of an inch of rainfall on Sunday and early Monday morning.
High winds, gusting to 30 miles per hour, resulted in a chills factor of 35 below zero by the time the temperature had dropped to 3 above zero Tuesday morning.
Rain gauges at the locks measured only a trace this morning.
Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets, said he called out seven men Monday night to begin operating the city's two snow plows and three salt spreaders.
"But by early Tuesday morning the low temperatures caused salt and sand to freeze and there wasn't much that could be done when it was that cold," he said.
Portell said the city street workers have used more than 100 tons of salt and cinders in an effort to thaw intersections where motorists have major problems getting under way after making traffic stops.
"People around here just do not know how to drive on snow and ice," some critics say, but even the best drivers found their autos under less than total control on Quad-City area streets and highways early this week.
Primarily, accidents were in two classes. Either those caused by sliding into parked cars or into intersections, or those caused by drivers following other vehicles too closely on the "tail."

"Tailgaters," those who follow too closely, presented a major concern for all drivers, who knew the auto behind them would not be able to stop if the brakes of the front car were applied.
However, Granite City Chief of Police said he felt most drivers were displaying a great deal of caution on the snow and ice, and commended them.
Caution was not enough for more than 30 motorists whose autos were "customized by crunch" on the icy Quad-City area streets. Granite City police handled 11 accidents Monday and 14 Tuesday, mostly two or three-car accidents.
Madison County reported two accidents Monday and one Tuesday and Venice recorded three accidents Monday. There also were numerous instances of cars sliding into each other at slow speeds, but the damages did not warrant calling police. Madison County sheriff's deputies took 13 accident reports Monday and three Tuesday.
Madison County Sheriff John Maera issued a warning Tuesday morning to inform motorists "All roadways in the county are very hazardous and the majority are snow-packed." A large number had been stranded when their cars slid off roadways into fields and the low temperatures made such incidents in rural areas very dangerous where a car off the road may not be found for some time.

Two tractor-trailers jackknifed on Interstate 270 early Tuesday, causing a severe backup, and numerous other highway and interstate backups were reported in St. Louis.
Driving was not the only thing which was dangerous walking was too. Authorities at St. Elizabeth Hospital reported 12 persons were treated Tuesday in the emergency room after falling on ice.
Two were admitted — a 3-year-old boy who sustained a knee injury and 70-year-old Frank Boyer, 4075 Bruene Drive, Pontoon Beach, who fractured his right hip.

Tree of Lights at $7,998

Contributions to the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights stands this week at $7,998, or 35 percent of the $23,000 goal. It was announced today by James Jeffries, campaign chairman.

More than 200 families applied for Christmas aid on Monday, the first day applications were accepted.

In excess of 700 families are expected to receive assistance during the coming holiday season.

Quad-City area families and individuals wishing to apply for Christmas baskets and related aid through the Salvation Army may do so in person today and Friday and from Monday to Friday, Dec. 16, at the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St. The hours are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Funds donated to the annual Tree of Lights drive are used to provide food baskets at Christmas time to needy families and toys, clothing and shoes to youngsters in need.

In addition to the direct contributions made by individuals and business firms, the volunteer assistance fund is boosted through the efforts of volunteers, mostly from civic service and youth groups, who serve as bellringers at the Salvation Army street-corner kettles.

Starting Monday and continuing all next week, members of the Salvation Army Home League, Sunbeams and Guards will be visiting area nursing homes, hospitals and shut-in residents, taking gifts and providing Christmas cheer.

On Thursday, Dec. 15, area senior citizens will be treated to the Corps-sponsored Christmas dinner and party at the center, according to Captain Michael Tompkins, Salvation Army commander in this area.

The 1977 Tree of Lights in the Quad-Cities stands above the entrance to Coolidge Junior High School.

A thermometer-indicator keeping track of donations, is located in front of Coolidge JHS on Nameoki Road.

Individual donations may be taken to the Corps headquarters, in person, or mailed to P.O. Box 336, Granite City, Ill. 62040, in care of Capt. Tompkins, Jeffries said.

Among those contributing $25 or more to the Tree of Lights are:

Curtis Blevins, Earl Stanfill, R. K. Bennington, Mr. and Mrs. Donn O. Kinney (two), John Bagl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gandorla, Howard E. Weber, Donald Lucy, Lewis Laboratory, Gabriel Gancheff, Granite City Press-Record.

Illinois Power Company, R. C. Solomon (four), Van A. Puryear (two), Rita A. Hennessy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dragulich (two), Mrs. Elma M. Hoover, Roger Q. Hoover, United Methodist Church, C. E. Eads (four), Adrian E. Wagner, Charles Zeugin and Family, P. H. Litchberger (four).

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Arnette, Joseph Richardson, Anton A. Ramek, Mr. and Mrs. George Kadar, John Senczyn, Mrs. Lucy Weaver, Fred W. Voget (three), Robert Ruppel, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon F. Cutright (two), Bruce H. Lambert, C. W. Boyd, Philathea Class of the United Methodist Church, Dorothy Mathis (two), Nick A. Lucido Jr., W. P. Guth (three), Granite City Steel Credit Union, Mrs. Evelyn Lea, Mrs. Raylen Anderson, James R. Hancock, Howard Vallow, Dr. David Friedman, Ruth L. Barton, Seibold's Bake Shop, Robert Conaway, Russell West, Women of the Moose, Alf Schreiber, Albert P. Tammis, Mrs. Christine Batson (two), and Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi (two).

LONGEST FIGHT in the record book for "bare knuckles" competition under Queensberry Rules was staged in Nameoki Township Feb. 5, 1893, as Harry Sharpe decked Frank Crosby in the 77th round after a fight which lasted five hours and 55 minutes. A redwood sign with engraved pictures of the boxers and significant data on the fight stands relatively unnoticed in the Nameoki Trailer Court near the southern end of Old Alton Road. Mrs. Lillian Thomure, who resides in the mobile home park, raised the question why the boxers appear to be wearing gloves in the pictures on the sign. Research this week revealed the boxers wore three-ounce gloves which offered a thin covering of the hands, but did not protect knuckles, heads or bodies, so the fight still was classed as a "bare knuckles" fight. Mrs. Thomure holds a copy of the 1971 Granite City Jubilee historical edition of the Press-Record, which helped solve questions related to the history of the sign. She recalls the sign, in its present location, once was the backdrop for a beer garden.

Filing to begin for '78 state and federal offices

The State Board of Elections will begin to accept nomination papers for party primary candidates for state and federal offices for the March 21 primary election on Monday, Dec. 12, at 8 a.m., it was announced today by Board Chairman Michael E. Lavelle.

"This marks the beginning of a very important and busy period for our agency," said Lavelle, "and plans have been made for a smooth and orderly filing period."

Party primary candidates for the following offices must file their nomination papers with the State Board of Elections: United States senator, representative in Congress, governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, state senator, state representative, Appellate judges (to fill vacancies), Circuit Court judges (to fill vacancies), and additional judgeships being filled in the 18th Circuit and Cook County), resident circuit judges (to fill vacancies), Regional Board of School Trustees members (multi-county regions only), and state central committees.

"Independent candidates for a district office within a single county must file their nomination papers with their county clerk," Lavelle noted.

He added that candidates for county offices also file their nomination papers with their county clerk.

Lavelle said nomination papers must be filed either by mail or in person in the Springfield office of the State Board of Elections, 1020 S. Spring St., Springfield 62766.

The filing period extends from 8 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 12, through 5 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 19.

Filings will be accepted on Saturday, Dec. 17, from 8 a.m. to noon, but no filings will be received on Sunday, Dec. 18, in Springfield.

Petitions received by mail prior to 8 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 12, but after midnight on Sunday, Dec. 11, and all individuals in line as of 8 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 12, will be certified by mail prior to midnight Sunday, Dec. 11, must be returned to the sender, according to state law.

Ballot positions for all candidates receiving filed as of 8 a.m. on Dec. 12 will be determined by a lottery conducted by the State Board of Elections.

Candidates filing after 8 a.m. on Dec. 12 will be certified on the ballot in the order of filing.

According to state law, the State Board of Elections must certify to the county clerks the names of all candidates for state and federal office and the order in which they are to appear on the primary ballot by Jan. 19, 1978.

Lavelle concluded that anyone interested in obtaining additional information regarding petition filing should call the State Board of Elections offices in either Springfield (217-782-4141) or Chicago (312-435-6440).

Limit car speed to 55, Baird urges

By LYNN E. BAIRD

Superintendent

Division of State Police

The 55 miles per hour speed limit has been a controversial subject of national interest since it was enacted in 1973.

Although passed in an effort to conserve precious oil reserves, the law has served a larger purpose in the reduction of traffic fatalities during the past four years.

Traffic fatalities nationally dropped from 55,511 in 1973 to 46,402 in 1974.

Unfortunately, the trend is beginning to reverse. In a report to President Carter, Secretary of Transportation Brock Adams noted that highway deaths increased from 46,011 in 1975 to 46,820 in 1976.

Speed surveys show a corresponding rise in the average speed of vehicles during the period.

Voluntary compliance with the 55 mph limit has dwindled to the point that efforts at the federal level are being made to ensure that states are actively enforcing the laws.

I can assure you that the Illinois State Police have implemented and continue to maintain an enforcement program aimed at enhancing voluntary compliance with the speed law.

State Police arrest records indicate that troopers issued over 340,000 arrest citations and written warnings for speeding last year.

This was 40 percent more than the number issued in 1975, when the 55 mph limit was enacted.

This increase was accomplished while maintaining enforcement levels in other hazardous moving violation categories.

Without voluntary compliance with speed laws, no program to conserve energy or reduce traffic accidents will work.

To gain voluntary compliance, Illinois troopers will continue a vigorous enforcement campaign and will through public information programs — continue seeking ways to convince drivers that it is in their best interest to adhere to the 55 mph limit.

Thompson in Washington about once every month

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
Gov. James Thompson is becoming one of the more familiar lobbyists here. In office for 11 months, he has made eight trips to the nation's capital in nine months. Most of those visits have been built around attempts to shake more dollars from the federal money tree. He hardly had a chance to warm up his chair in the executive office in Springfield before he came here for the mid-winter meeting of the National Governor's Conference Feb. 27 to March 1. Two weeks later, he returned to Washington for a "get-acquainted" meeting with the Illinois Congressional delegation, and to prod the federal government to take action on drought relief. On April 14, he returned as one of eight governors invited by President Carter to be briefed on the national energy policy then being formulated by the administration. Thirteen days later, he was again in Washington, this time to meet with Congressional leaders on a proposal to earmark to the states a share of any wellhead tax on crude oil which might be enacted. He came back July 5 to outline that proposal to Transportation Secretary Brock Adams; Stuart Elzenstam, the president's assistant for domestic affairs and policy; and Energy Secretary James Schlesinger, then Mr. Carter's energy adviser. Fifteen days later, he returned to push the rebate idea with House leaders. On Oct. 4, the Illinois governor came here to address the Washington Export Council and to meet with 35 representatives of Illinois-based firms. His most recent visit was Oct. 29, the day after he announced his candidacy for re-election. Purpose of that trip was to attend a briefing by Housing and Urban Development Secretary Patricia Harris and two presidential assistants on a plan to aid economically-distressed cities. The plan is now being shaped by the administration. Thompson's critics well may ask during the course of the campaign if those trips are to advance Illinois or "Big Jim" Thompson. His motives become suspect because of his dual role as a candidate for re-election and a potential contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1980. Coming to Washington gives him a chance to emerge nationally as a pusher for aid to the states and a critic of the Carter administration. Thompson is not unaware he lays himself open to charges of self-advancement with the nearly once-a-month trips. "The best way to respond to it is to say that those who think so never will be satisfied with any answer of mine," Thompson told the Press-Record. Despite the fact he has expanded the Illinois office here from the two to three people employed during the previous administration to a staff of seven, Thompson says he needs to be here personally to push proposals. The groundwork is done by the staff; Thompson is the salesman with access to key leaders — leaders who might not be so readily available to the governor's Washington aides. "Unless the governor says this is the way we ought to go, our interests are overlooked," Thompson said. "The more a governor gets around to other states and gets with Congress and the administration,

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Dec. 8, 1977 Page 7
"If nobody in Washington knows who I am, I cannot get much done for Illinois." Thompson believes his trips have been instrumental in the Senate accepting the proposal by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., to rebate a share of the proposed wellhead tax to the states. The House also is expected to accept that provision, which would mean about $17 million a year for Illinois. The question is whether Congress actually will approve the wellhead tax on crude oil. He is mindful that State Comptroller Michael Bakalis, the likely Democratic nominee for governor, might accuse him of using the governor's office to advance national ambitions via the frequent trips. But he is prepared for that charge. "Any candidate for governor who would criticize a governor for coming to Washington does not understand how government operates and would make a poor governor," Thompson said. If it becomes a campaign issue, Thompson said, he will stack his vouchers for expenses of Washington trips against the $17 million Illinois stands to receive if the rebate plan and the crude oil tax go through.

Area births down; deaths show increase

Births in the Quad-City area during November dropped substantially below those of the same month a year ago, while the number of deaths increased slightly, according to a vital statistics report released by City Clerk Robert Stevens. The report showed a total of 62 births last month, compared with 80 during November 1976, and a total of 39 deaths, up from 32 in November 1976. There was one fetal death during November, the same as in November a year ago. The November statistics brought to 907 the total number of births for the 11 months of this year, up from 878 during the same period in 1976, and to 500 the total number of deaths, up from 449 for the same period a year ago. Details for the 11 months this year totaled 13, up from 10.

traffic laws, except as to movement of emergency vehicles, snow plows or police vehicles.

Signs are to be erected by the street department marking all streets of the route.

The new law specifies that any motorist who permits a stalled car to remain on any part of the route, or leaves a car parked, will be subject of penalties of the ordinance. Such cars are to be towed and may be impounded.

Violations of the bill are subject to a fine of $10 to $25. Alderman Ronald Coleman asked City Attorney George Filbeck if the ordinance means that if he parked his car in front of his home and a snow storm developed during the night, it would be towed away. Filbeck said that was the terms of the ordinance.

Mayor Schuler told the council that he believes the ordinance is needed and that the people living on the snow routes will need to be educated to the new parking requirements on designated streets.

Emergency snow route streets listed by Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets, are as follows:

Madison Avenue from 15th Street to Nameoki Road; Niedringhaus Avenue from Washington Avenue to Route 3 and 151 Depot Gate; 20th Street from Route 162 to West 23rd Street; Pontoon Road from Maryville Road to Rode Avenue.

Johnson Road from Pontoon Road to Peeling Road to 20th Street to Adams to Niedringhaus; State Street from 15th Street to Niedringhaus Avenue; St. Clair from Nameoki Road to Maryville Road.

Victory Drive from Nameoki Road to Maryville Road; Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Terminal Avenue; 23rd Street from Nameoki Road to Adams Street.

Twentieth Street from Madison Avenue to Route 3, North Granite; 27th Street from Madison Avenue to Nameoki Road and Clark Street from Johnson Road to Maryville Road.

Non-binding

of negotiations in such case would not be binding upon the council if the aldermen did not agree with results the city-union talks.

Decatur said mediation of the dispute also would involve terms of an agreement with Granite City firemen, but would not apply to street department workers.

"We (the negotiating committee) have not heard from street department workers since our last council session (Nov. 22)," Decatur said.

New working agreements with the police, fire and street departments have been delayed longer this year than in any previous year because of a dispute over hospitalization and medical insurance requests by the union representatives for the police department.

The police department has requested an extension of hospitalization and medical coverage to the age of 65 regardless of when the employee retires. Some modifications have been agreed upon, but council members persist in opposition to the proposal, contending that in some instances the city could pay premiums for such insurance as long as 15 years after a member of the department retired.

The negotiation on this issue also is expected to apply to members of the firefighters union. The council also is objecting to a request by street department workers for a longevity clause, similar to the program now in effect for the police department.

There is no dispute over wage proposals which provide a 6 per cent pay raise this year, another 6 per cent next year and 6 per cent in the 1979 year.

Terms finally settled upon will be retroactive to last May 1, beginning of the city's fiscal year, but back salaries under the wage proposals in the agreement will not be paid until the agreement is completed.

Man beaten, hospitalized

William Carlton, 28, of 1728 Cleveland Blvd., Apt. 1, sustained severe injuries when two men at his home beat him with a soft drink bottle about 2 a.m. Wednesday.

Carlton said he was at home when two men entered and an argument ensued. One man picked up a bottle, struck Carlton several times, broke the bottle on Carlton's head, cut his neck with the broken bottle and cut both of Carlton's hands as the victim tried to protect himself.

After he was knocked to the floor he was kicked repeatedly and the man threatened to kill him, Carlton related.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with six cuts and bumps on his head and cuts to both hands. At 10:40 a.m. Wednesday, a man police were seeking for questioning in the case came to the police station with the man to meet with detectives. The man was released after agreeing to take a polygraph test.

David Fox reviewed three workshops held for agencies by the United Way priorities and planning committee, and said the group is working toward formulation of five-year plans for area human services and assistance. He is a vice-president of the First Granite City National Bank.

The yearly nominating process was initiated, and finances were reviewed by Treasurer Thomas Majewski.

It was noted that purchase of the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center building is being completed by St. Elizabeth Hospital, which will provide administrative services for operation of the program for alcoholics.

It was announced that a selection process has been started to secure an executive director replacing Keith Rohrs, who has accepted a position elsewhere.

Reports on 1977 transactions through Nov. 30 showed $480,309 receipts and $429,941 disbursements.

Sewer repair

Actually, the mayor noted, the problem does not represent a loss of the $270,000 budgeted in the Community Development program for the sewer project because the money still will be allotted to Granite City for other projects that do qualify.

Granite City's allocation of Community Development funds for projects to be carried out over the next three years is expected to exceed $1 million.

Schuler explained that the disqualification of the sewer rehabilitation program is based on four major points of qualification set out by HUD.

The first of these is a requirement that the project meet an urgent health need. This sewer work meets this requirement, he noted.

The second point, however, concerns the availability of other funding. HUD has maintained, Schuler said, that Granite City can meet the costs of the sewer work by taxation.

He said HUD also rules out the sewer program on the contention the city has no fiscal problems, a third requirement of the new guidelines, and that the broken sewers are of long standing rather than being of recent origin, the fourth principal point of the new guidelines.

The mayor added that the city can reapply for part of the funds for the sewer project of the Nameoki area which may meet the guidelines.

Schuler told the aldermen that the city has received $130 million in three checks which clears all Community Development obligations under the first phase of the Community Development program.

"This leaves the matter up to us, so we had better start thinking about how we are going to meet this cost," he noted.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said the payment of the ten workers from regular city funds "will make them permanent employees and subject to all the terms of the working agreements we finally decide upon."

The sewer rehabilitation program is conducted by the sewer division of the street department and has resulted in replacement of several major sewer breaks, some of them resulting from flooding in the spring of 1973.

Completed replacement of 800 feet of sanitary sewer line along Franklin Avenue several months ago, and now are working on the replacement of a sanitary line in the O'Hare Avenue and Kilarney Street area.

Sites for cage tourneys selected

Sites for the levels of competition from the regionals through the state finals in the three statewide series in basketball conducted by the Illinois High School Association have been established, according to Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh.

In order to crown champions in the boys class A, boys class AA and single-class girls series in the Assembly Hall in Champaign, a total of 242 sites for regional, sectional and super-sectional competition must first be established.

In the boys series, 165 sites are necessary, while 77 are needed in the girls series.

The boys series is in its 71st year — one of the oldest continuous athletic tournaments in America and the "infant" girls series is in its second year.

Champions in all three series will be crowned at the 15,000-seat Assembly Hall in Champaign. The class A boys state final is scheduled the weekend of March 10-11. The class AA boys state final will be held the weekend of March 17-18. The girls state final will be the weekend of March 31-April 1.

There will be one significant change in game time in the boys series, and that will be at the super-sectional level. All super-sectional games, except the one at Evanston (Northwestern) will begin at 7:30 p.m. The Evanston Super-Sectional game will start at 4 p.m.

All super-sectional games in the girls series will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Area schools that will be hosting class A regionals include Breese Mater Dei, Dupu, Altamont and St. Jacob-Triad in the southern sector of the state. Area schools hosting class AA regionals are Alton Senior, Belleville East, Carbondale and Collinsville.

The class A sectionals in this area are to be hosted by Vandalia, Nashville and Ridgeway. The class A super sectional will be held at Carbondale (SIU Arena) and Charleston (EIU Laatz Gym).

Class AA sectionals are set for East St. Louis Senior and West Frankfort. The super sectional for the southern sector of the state in class AA will be in the SIU Arena at Carbondale.

The girls single-class series will begin with area regionals at Granite City North, Mascoutah and Alton Marquette.

Sectionals will be in Edwardsville, Mt. Vernon and Mattoon. Super sectionals involving area schools will be in Centralia and Charleston.

Assignment of teams to regional centers in the two boys series and the sub-regionals and correlated regional centers in the girls series is scheduled to be made in December.

The annual rolling of peas (blind draw) to determine sectional pairings and the matchup of super-sectional winners at the respective state final tournaments is scheduled to be conducted in the IHSA office Tuesday, Jan. 10. Pairings for regional and sub-regional competition will be made later in January.

Tournament competition begins Monday, Feb. 20, at the class A regional level and continues through the crowning of a center stage spot at each of the three state finals.

During that time, 28 days are used to play 1,242 games, with 512 in class A, 225 in class AA and 505 in girls competition.

For the third straight year, pep bands from IHSA member schools will audition via tape in December and early January for a center stage spot at each of the three state finals, where they will perform for fans attending the games in the Assembly Hall and the statewide television audience. This popular feature has been expanded to include the girls state final.

Dudley placed on probation

Jim Dudley, head coach of the men's intercollegiate basketball program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been placed on university probation until July 1979 as the result of a special investigation into the program's fiscal operations.

The action was announced Monday evening by Dr. C. Scully Stikes, vice-president for student affairs at SIUE. A statement of concurrence was issued by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, university president. Stikes said Dudley will not be eligible for increases in salary or benefits during the probationary period.

Stikes also announced that recommendations of the university's internal auditor, Donald J. Warren, will be implemented in regard to the fiscal operations of intercollegiate athletics programs.

The recommendations include implementation of stricter requirements for reimbursement of expenses through travel vouchers, tighter controls on deliveries of merchandise purchased through the men's intercollegiate athletics account and on the operation of university vehicles, detailed record-keeping on recruiting efforts, and submission to the University Intercollegiate Athletic Committee (IACAC) of a proposal concerning uses of "guarantee" money paid to the university by institutions which host SIUE teams.

Dudley was charged with improprieties in the management of men's basketball fiscal operations, in stories published in The Daily Aletie, the SIUE student newspaper in early November. In general, the allegations were that Dudley had falsified travel vouchers in order to obtain money for other school purposes.

Pres. Shaw directed the university's internal auditor to launch an immediate investigation. The auditor's final report, submitted Friday to the president and the Office of the Vice-President for Student Affairs, was made public this week with the announcement of the sanctions against Dudley.

According to the auditor's report, the investigation, covering all travel in connection with the men's basketball program for the last two years, found that false information was shown on the travel vouchers of Dudley and Dan Thornton.

The auditor said all the improprieties were attributed to Dudley, with Assistant Coach Thornton contending that he was asked to falsify vouchers by the head coach and was in no position to refuse.

The auditor said the excess of reimbursement over expenses for the two-year period totaled at least $1,513 and possibly as much as $2,270.

The auditor concluded there is convincing evidence that the major portion of the funds obtained by Dudley went back into the athletic program.

"Contrary to what has been published, there was no 'fund' as such," the auditor's report said. "Money was being paid out by Dudley for trips while he was awaiting reimbursement on others. There was more of an ebb and flow of dollars being continuously turned over during the season rather than a fund, and he himself apparently never tried to figure out how all

"In his own defense, he (Dudley) compiled a list of trips taken for recruiting purposes for which no vouchers were submitted, and he cited various expenses which were paid in cash," the report continued.

The primary method used on the travel vouchers to falsify information was improper use of the per diem allowance, according to the report.

"We are referring to an extension of the time period so as to qualify for more than would be permitted under the regulations, or claiming one more person in the group than actually went, or taking it (per diem allowance) when some meals in the past two years were provided by the host school," the auditor said.

The report indicated that deceptions apparently were used in purchasing items such as basketball schedules and team supplies because "this was found to be an easier way" than following regular purchasing department procedures.

The report cited three instances where guarantee checks had been made out by host institutions to Dudley personally rather than to the university, and the checks were cashed by Dudley. The auditor has receipts for lodging which was paid with some of the money.

The auditor also noted that no lodging was charged for the team on the travel vouchers and, in one case, the lodging charge exceeded the amount of the guarantee check. A motive cited was reduction of paperwork.

The auditor's report said no evidence of serious violations was found in the other sports programs. Some instances, including errors in preparation of vouchers, use of meal charges to cover costs of supplies and other expenses, and questionable use of university vehicles, were noted.

Stikes commented, "These and the Dudley actions result from poor fiscal control procedures. By implementing the auditor's report, such violations should be avoided in the future."

A university spokesman asserted, "Coach Dudley violated several university policies, out of conviction he was doing what he perceived to be best for the basketball program."

"There is no evidence he gained in any way. Nevertheless, he did violate policy and the sanctions imposed were both necessary and proper."

Dr. Shaw said he had been advised by the university's general counsel that the matter should be handled on an internal basis.

For the record, copies of the report have been sent to the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the auditor general of Illinois. A copy also is available to the public in Lovejoy Library on the SIUE campus.

Red Devils 'snowed-out'

The Venice High School basketball game at Sumner High School in St. Louis that was originally scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 6 was postponed because of the icy weather. No make-up date for the game has been selected as of yet, according to Ken Perkins, head basketball coach at Venice High.

However, plans are being made by both schools to find a suitable date for the game.

The next game for the Red Devils will be Saturday, Dec. 17, at home against Flora. It will be their first home game of the season.

Youngsters may still sign for 'Y' Youth Basketball

More than 1,000 St. Louis area boys and girls are expected to enroll for the third season of the YMCA's Youth Basketball Association (YBA), a special program developed by the national YMCA stressing values as well as fun and exercise. Play will start the first week of January.

Seven branches of the UMCA of Greater St. Louis and three Illinois YMCA's, Alton, Belleville and Tri-City Area, are participating in the program.

It is based on equal participation for all players, safety and playing for enjoyment without pressure.

Youngsters can sign up through December at the local YMCA, with registration continuing until play starts.

Branches of the YMCA of Greater St. Louis participating in the 10-week YBA program include Carondelet, 600 Loughborough Ave.; City North, 5555 Page Blvd.; Kirkwood, 225 N. Taylor Ave.; Mid-County Audubon Park Outpost, 9000

Wrenwood Ave.; South County, 11431 Gravois Road; South Side, 2332 S. Grand Blvd.; and Webster Groves, 226 E. Lockwood Ave.

Illinois "Y's" are Alton, 2300 N. Henry Ave.; Belleville, Family "Y," 15 N. 1st St.; and Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., Granite City.

Each youth participating in the program will receive a YBA uniform, a player's manual with tips from National Basketball Association stars who helped the YMCA develop the program, and a personal progress scorecard.

Sometime during the YBA season, an NBA player will visit the area to give the boys and girls pointers and illustrate playing skills.

More than 100 in the Quad-Cities took part in the program last year.

Schooley finishes season as leading Illini receiver

Granite City South's Tom Schooley ended a most impressive 1977 season as the University of Illinois' leading pass receiver.

Over the year, Schooley not only led the team in receptions (15) and yards gained (231), but also averaged 15.4 yards each time he caught the ball. He caught one touchdown pass and had five total receptions against Stanford.

Rascals' teams honored

The Granite City Rascals football club held its fifth annual awards banquet at the Croatian Hall this week. Over 200 trophies were awarded to players, cheerleaders and coaches.

Bob Patrick, president of the organization, served as main speaker and opened the program by thanking everyone who had been involved in the program this season.

He introduced this year's board of directors: Leonard

Busy weekend for Warriors; host quadrangular Saturday

It'll be a busy week for the Granite City South Warrior wrestling squad. Tomorrow night, the Warriors travel to Alton for a meet with the Red Birds, beginning at 6 p.m. with junior varsity bouts.

Then on Saturday afternoon, they will host a four-team meet at South involving East St. Louis Senior, Springfield Senior and Mattoon, beginning at noon. MATTOON will be sending an inexperienced squad to the mats when that school meets the other three teams Saturday.

Mattoon has two freshmen and three sophomores on its varsity. In addition, there is a new head coach, Vince Obrinski.

"I don't think we'll be at too much of a disadvantage," said Obrinski. "We've got some really fine young wrestlers and I'm confident that, as the season progresses, we'll have a fine group."

Springfield Senior will feature a grappler who finished second in the state last season in freestyle competition. Dennis McCormick (155) is a senior who Springfield is relying on heavily to spark the squad on to victory.

EAST ST. LOUIS is "down" this year, according to coach Willard Jackson.

"We lost a lot of good wrestlers," said Jackson. "The guys we've got coming back really didn't have that much experience last year.

"I'm not saying we can't be tough, though. It seems that we always come up with a couple of good wrestlers."

Two of the flyers who could be just that are Don Lauders and John Glenn, both seniors.

"They're both good and strong," said Jackson.

"This meet should be a good test for both of them... and our team as a whole."

Steelers snowed-out; North's quad Sat.

Mothers Nature played tricks with the schedules of many of the area prep sports teams this week.

Among those affected was Granite City North's wrestlers. Their meet at Belleville East Tuesday night was postponed because of the snowy weather. No make-up date has been decided upon as yet, but a suitable date will be found and the meet will be made up, according to Steeler wrestling coach Walt Whitaker.

The next meet for the 3-0 varsity Steeler grapplers will be this Saturday when they host Collinsville, Edwardsville and Belleville West in a quadrangular meet in the North gym. The starting time is set for 10 a.m.

The Steeler varsity will then have a layoff of about a week.

The next meet is set for Friday, Dec. 16, when North will host Parkway West from St. Louis.

The Steeler freshmen and sophomores will travel to Wood River for a meet at 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 15.

Belleville West is led by the Dunn brothers act, which starts identical twins Bob and Rich. Bob is a 105-pounder and Rich weighs in at 112. They are this year's Maroon captains.

Collinsville will be trying to come back from a terrible season last year, which saw the mat Kaboks win only three meets. But Kabok coach Joe Spurgeon is confident of his team's ability.

Edwardsville's Tigers lost their first meet of the season to Roxana, but had four winners in that meet. They could be a contender.

Yelton, first vice-president, Rich Smallwood, second vice-president, and Jane Maier, Al Cavin, Stan Brown, Wayne Angle, Bill Johnson, John Cole, Leo Kalpis Jr. and Leo Kalpis III.

Patrick presented plaques to Cavin, Brown, Angle and Johnson, who are retiring after four years of service.

Seven new directors who will serve for the 1978 season were announced. They are: Fred Becker, Stan Jackson, Jim Tapp, Ed Brander, Stan Sak, Paul Eads and Charles Bricker.

Junior Pee Wee South head coach Mike Sues, aided by assistant coaches John Jaros and Mike Harris, presented trophies to the team, fourth-place finisher in its division of the Tri-County Junior Football Conference with a 5-4 record.

Head Coach John Cole and his assistant coaches, Sonny Sebastian and Mike Kalpis, presented trophies to the players from the Pee Wee North team, which finished third in its division with a 6-2 record.

The Junior Pee Wee North team, first-place finisher in the division and playoff runnerup, was presented individual trophies by the coaches, Leo Kalpis Jr., head coach, and Fred Becker, Jim Tapp, Rich Smallwood and Ed Brander, assistant coaches. The squad finished the season with an 8-3-1 record.

Patrick, who coached the Rascals' Midget team, along with assistant coaches Al Cavin and Stan Brown, presented trophies to the members of their team, which finished as the Midget North Division season and playoff champions.

The team received a standing ovation when Patrick announced that it was the first team to defeat all six Belleville Devils and Knights teams in becoming the first Granite City Rascals team to win the Midget playoffs.

The cheerleaders of each team were given trophies by their leaders: Pat Mink and Emma Kalpis (Midget), Diane Stephens (Junior Pee Wee North), Pat Davis and Wilma DeShon (Pee Wee North) and Marian Wright and Barbara Maycock (Junior Pee Wee South).

The program ended when Leo Kalpis Jr., chairman of the banquet committee, presented a special plaque on behalf of the organization to Patrick, who served this season as president of the Rascals for the third time in the past five years.

Waldo sparks Cougars to 72-57 victory

Granite City Mike Waldo, a junior transfer from Lewis and Clark Junior College, came off the bench last night to help the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball Cougars to a 72-57 romp over Oakland City College in, Edwardsville.

Trailing by two points at halftime, 30-28, the Cougars outscored the Oaks 44-27 in the second half to gain their second victory of the season against no losses.

Waldo was six-for-13 from the floor in scoring 12 points. He also snared six rebounds. Ken Peebles led SIUE with 24 points.

Benny Lewis had 16.

"Mike did just a super job," said SIUE coach Jim Dudley.

"I'm very pleased with his play last night."

The team left this morning for Rensselaer, Ind., and the St. Joseph's College tournament Friday and Saturday.

The next home game for the Cougars will be next Thursday, Dec. 15, against Greenville College in the Edwardsville High School gymnasium. Tipoff time is set for 8 p.m.

41-year GC-to-Pittsburgh career for United Steelworkers leader

No actual doubt exists that the 1977 steel union election was conducted properly, in the view of the union's top official.

President Lloyd McBride of the United Steelworkers of America has testified the following statement after the U.S. Department of Labor announced the results of its investigation of charges filed in regard to the union's internal election last Feb. 8: "The Labor Department's report confirms the fact that our union, its officers and our members conduct honest and democratic elections and accurately reflect the wishes of the membership.

"It is unfortunate that so much time and expense — thousands of union man hours and over a quarter of a million dollars — had to be devoted to a reaffirmation of the honesty of our elections.

"This time and money could have been put to better use on behalf of the members of our union in defending their jobs and other economic and social interests," McBride said.

"Our union's local officers and members resent the unfounded charges of misconduct falsely levied against them, especially those charges made by outsiders with a political or personal axe to grind.

"While the results of the investigation are a testament to our union's commitment to democracy, they cannot fully repair the damage done to the Steelworkers' reputation as a decent and democratic union by a smear campaign against the union in the media by the challenger's attorney.

"Sadovskis' false charges have been used in a number of cases by employers to defeat Steelworker organizing drives and to taint organized labor in the public mind at a time when important labor legislation is pending in Congress.

"Such rule-or-ruin tactics expose its conspirators as enemies of the trade union movement and union democracy.

"The loser's vow to continue seeking to overturn the USWA election is now shown to be nothing more than revenge against Steelworkers for refusing to vote for him.

"Rauh's never-ending battle to win in the future what Sadovskis lost at the ballot box is costing still further expenditures of union money and energy which should be devoted to fighting for the interests of our members."

McBride also said that the Canadian Labor Department had investigated the voting in Canada at the request of the USWA in Canada, and had concluded there was no "fraud, corruption, malversation or even bad intention" in the conduct of the election in Canada.

"The proposal made by the challengers' attorney, that the U.S. Department of Labor disregard the Canadian votes, is now exposed as nothing more than a desperation move to undermine democracy in the Steelworkers by those who lost the election and simply cannot accept their rejection by the voters," he commented.

President McBride formerly of the local USWA district, recalled that the USWA had requested the "maximum possible" assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor in regard to the union's election, and that the department had informed the union it had provided more assistance than it had in its history.

"The department's decision to provide the technical assistance follows two months of efforts by the USWA, including a formal request from former USWA President I. W. Abel to the secretary of labor to get the department to assist the union in the conduct of the election," McBride continued.

"The assistance included a top-level task force to respond to election inquiries, assignment of compliance officers to instruct union leaders on the standards prescribed by the Landrum-Griffin Act, assignment of compliance officers to assist during the election, and the tally of the results of the election."

The official results of the election, released on April 28 after the investigation of challenges to the election, showed that McBride, then director of the union's District 34, St. Louis, defeated Edward Sadowski, then director of District 31, East Chicago, Ind., by a vote of 228,861 to 249,281, a difference of 79,550.

In the rank-and-file secret ballot voting, USWA members also elected four other top international officers, a national director of Canada and 25 district directors.

E. Gerard Doucquier is the USWA national director of Canada. He resides at Toronto, Ontario.

Present district directors are: Dist. 1 — William J. Foley, Worcester, Mass.

USWA officers are: Lloyd McBride, president.

Began four-year term June 1, 1977. Born March 9, 1916, in Farmington, Mo.

Joined Steel Workers Organizing Committee (SWOC), predecessor of the USWA, in 1936 and became a local union president two years later at the age of 22. He was appointed a SWOC staff representative in 1940.

Following service in the U.S. Navy during World War II, he returned to the Steelworkers St. Louis office where he worked as a staff representative and was elected director of District 34 in 1965, a position he retained without opposition for 12 years.

Lynn Williams, secretary. Installed June 1, 1977 as secretary of USWA, a newly-created position. First Canadian to hold a top international office.

Born July 21, 1924, in Springfield, Ontario, he is a graduate of Hamilton's McMaster University and has done post-graduate work in economics at the University of Toronto.

A member of the USWA most of his adult life, he became a staff representative in 1956 and was later named area supervisor and organizing director.

Upon the retirement of incumbent Larry Selson in 1973, he was elected director of the 100,000 member District 6.

Frank McKee, treasurer. Sworn in June 1, 1977, as first treasurer of the USWA after the office of secretary-treasurer was divided at the 18th Constitutional Convention.

Born Dec. 31, 1920, in Seattle, Wash., he went to work 35 years ago in the same Bethlehem steel mill as his father. He held several local union positions and was president for nine years.

He was appointed to the USWA staff in 1960 and worked in the Pacific Northwest area. He was elected director of the 10-state District 38 in 1971 and was re-elected to a full four-year term in 1973.

Joe Odoorch, vice president (administration). Was installed June 1, 1977 to a four-year term. A native of Johnstown, Penn., he was born Aug. 26, 1916.

Following the death of his father in a coal mining accident, he also went into the mines at the age of 15 until narrowly escaping injury in a slate fall.

He switched to a job in a foundry and served as a steward and a local union president until appointed to the USWA staff in 1949.

Elected director of District 15 in a special election in 1970, he was unopposed for re-election in 1973.

Leon Lynch, vice president (human affairs). Was sworn in June 1, 1977, to a full four-year term, after serving an interim term in the new office created at the 18th Constitutional Convention of the union in September 1976.

Born June 4, 1936, in Edwards, Miss. Following graduation from high school in 1954, he was employed at Youngstown Sheet and Tube, East Chicago, Ind., from 1956 to 1968.

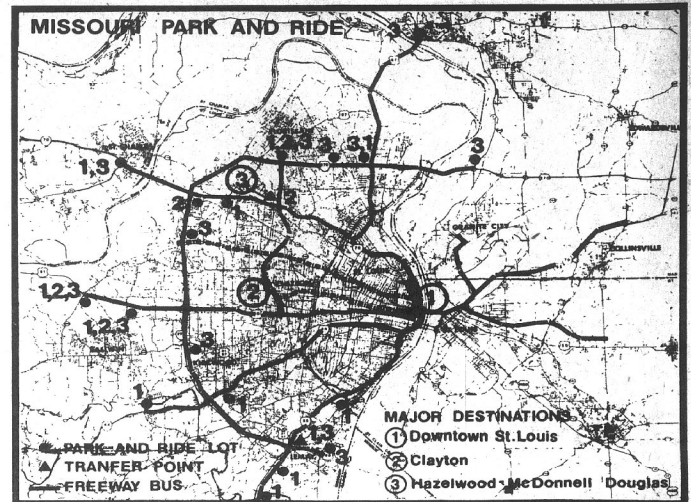

He then was named a staff representative and was assigned to Memphis, Tenn. In 1973, he was appointed as international representative.

He is a graduate of Roosevelt University, Chicago.

The USWA originally grew out of the mass production organizing efforts initiated in 1935 by United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis and a group of other AFL leaders.

They formed the Committee for Industrial Organization, later the Congress of Industrial Organization (CIO).

Under an agreement with the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers (organized in 1876), Philip Murray established the Steel Workers Organizing Committee

PEOPLE MOVERS of the future will include rapid transit light-rail facilities in Missouri, but Illinois will continue to rely upon buses, according to some of the plans being proposed for the next 15 to 20 years by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. A public hearing on the plans was held Monday night, but a blizzard limited attendance to only a few local residents and officials. Numerous proposals for the future of transportation here are to be offered to the Gateway Council's Board of Directors for consideration, including rail facilities in Illinois, but planners contend the area is not populated enough to trolley or passenger rail lines, which are expensive to construct and operate.

(SWOC) and launched a massive organizing drive throughout the industry in June 1936 with the assistance of the CIO.

Within six years, membership growth and collective bargaining progress led to the formation of an autonomous international union at a constitutional convention held in Cleveland.

The union became the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, on May 22, 1942.

Upon the merger of the CIO with the AFL in 1955, the USWA became an AFL-CIO affiliate.

In Canada, the union is affiliated with Canadian Labor Congress (CLC).

The USWA has 1,400,000 members in over 5,300 affiliated local unions throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada.

It has five international officers, the national director of Canada and 25 district directors in addition to wage rate structures and grievance machinery. contracts, negotiated by the USWA have featured liberal pension plans and sick and accident insurance coverage, plus supplementary unemployment benefits, three-month paid vacations every five years, and many other fringe benefits.

Prior to formation of the union, the basic steel labor rate was 47 cents an hour; fringe benefits were non-existent.

USWA collective bargaining policy is established by a 174-member International Wage Policy Committee comprised of the 31-member executive board and 143 elected members who must be actively employed in industry.

For major segments of the nation's membership, all policy decisions related to collective bargaining are determined through separate industry conferences.

The union also represents workers in a wide range of other manufacturing industries, such as engines, valves, fittings, chemicals, heating and plumbing equipment, compressors, home appliances, plastics, musical instruments, sporting goods, toys, hardware, machinery, transportation equipment and culinary.

Approximately 6,500 contracts are currently in force with over 4,700 employers.

Most contracts cover only one plant or one operating unit of the employer, although in some cases several operations may be covered by one basic contract.

Fewer Illinois school strikes

Teacher strikes in Illinois school districts declined sharply this fall, giving education its "quietest strike picture in years," State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin said Tuesday. He reported that strikes occurred in 12 districts this school year, compared to 25 last year and 26 two years ago.

The decrease, he said, meant corresponding reductions in the number of school days lost and students affected. School closings due to strikes totaled 57 days this year, well below the 100 days lost a year ago and the 126 days in 1975-76, according to the superintendent.

Similarly, Dr. Cronin said, the strikes affected 34,800 students this year in comparison with 106,000 last year and more than 650,000 (326,000 in Chicago) the previous year.

"I commend the Illinois Education Association, Illinois

Federation of Teachers, school boards and administrations for their roles in making this the quietest picture in years," the superintendent said.

"Willingness to sit down and continue bargaining until settlements are reached has reduced disruptions to the educational process."

The Illinois Office of

Senior citizens anxious to move

Area senior citizens are looking forward to moving into their new quarters next week in the new Granite City Township building, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, Edgar Paddock, president of the Senior Citizens Council, said Tuesday.

Education, which Dr. Cronin heads, has no formal authority in teacher-school board talks. It monitors strikes and potential strike situations to assure that the affected school districts comply with state regulations governing the school term. It also makes available mediation services when requested by both sides.

The Senior Citizens Council, according to Paddock, has 14 member clubs representing in excess of 1,000 people, "with plenty of room for more members."

"In 1973, we went to the city and township officials for help in getting a center and so we got the various clubs together and organized the council."

"The building at 1918 Edison Ave. was made available to us after we looked at several locations in downtown Granite City."

"We have been pleased with the location and the help the township and city officials along with other groups have given us. In the new building, everything will be on the first floor and there will be no steps."

"The nutrition program has helped a lot of people," Paddock said. "We have a fine hot meal served every day at the center, except Saturday and Sunday, and the people pay what they can."

In his closing remark, Paddock invited the Rotarians to visit the senior citizens at their new location.

The Rotarians were reminded that Tuesday, Dec. 13, will be the annual Rotary Christmas program and that wives are being invited. The meeting will begin at noon instead of 12:15 p.m.

COLGATE BURGLARY
A rear garage door and a door from the garage to the house were pried open to gain entry to the home of Terry Cook, 3116 Colgate Ave., between 8:10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday. The dining room and two bedrooms were ransacked. Taken were about $400 cash, some rolled pennies and an antique woman's pocket-watch. Police noted two different sets of shoe prints in the snow near the home, the sizes indicating youths may have been responsible.

Meet here to update county land use plan

The Madison County Planning Commission, at the request of the Madison County Board, is in the process of updating the official land use plan for Madison County.

The Planning Commission will be conducting the final of a series of three public meetings at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 15.

This meeting — at the City Hall in Granite City — is designed to review draft land use objectives and policies relating to recreation and open space, public services and facilities, transportation and natural resources and environmental quality.

Residents being urged to attend are those in Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and the townships of Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice.

McGovern to head Heart Fund drive

Ed McGovern, captain of No. 2 Fire Station in West Granite City, has been named Tri-City Heart Fund chairman for 1978.

McGovern has four children and two grandchildren and is a lifelong resident of Granite City. He has served on the Granite City Fire Department for the past 17 years and is president of Firefighters Local 253.

ED MCGOVERN
Heart Drive Chairman

A call for volunteers for the February 1978 Heart campaign has been issued by the Tri-City chairman.

"Volunteers can render their service for an important cause," he said. "Over half of all Americans who die each year die of heart and blood vessel diseases, and there are more than 29 million Americans afflicted with some form of it."

"The Heart Association needs volunteers to help fight America's number one killer. In addition to collecting contributions for research, education and community programs, the volunteers pass out information that can save lives," he said.

The information handed out by volunteers deals mainly with recognition of warning signals of heart attack and stroke, emergency action and information on the risk factors of heart disease.

McGovern said volunteers who want to fight for lives free of cardiovascular disease may apply at Heart campaign headquarters at 2106 Rock Road, Granite City, or call 876-2422 or 876-7222.

BETTER BUS TRANSPORTATION from the Quad-City area to East St. Louis and St. Louis is the objective of a long-range plan among those being considered by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. Planned within the next 15 to 20 years is a park-and-ride parking lot and passenger shelter in Madison which will be served frequently by buses which connect to an Interstate 55 and 70 freeway bus system, if the plan is among the alternatives selected. The dark lines show the proposed bus lines. The circles are stops with shelters and the arrowheads indicate local bus routes which will connect with the freeway buses.

Divers plan yule baskets for needy

Preparation of Christmas baskets for needy families will be among the items discussed by the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Granite City Civil Defense Center, 1411 Nineteenth St.

Income cards by veterans must be signed

Veterans and dependents receiving VA pension checks are being reminded that they must fill out the income cards which came with their Nov. 1 checks in order to be eligible to continue to receive pension benefits, Freeman Clinard, service officer of the Veterans' Administration, said this week. The income cards must be mailed back to the VA by Jan. 1, if checks are to be continued uninterrupted. Clinard will be in the Granite City Hall Tuesdays, Dec. 13, 20 and 27 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to aid persons needing assistance in completing the income cards.

Larry Earney, vice president-elect, is in charge of the annual gift-giving program. The project is financed each yuletide with proceeds from a special auction held during the Labor Day weekend diving from a storage shed at Bull Shoals Lake, Mo. The 1978 club budget, currently being prepared by Phil Lamm, retiring president; Dee Adams, president-elect; and Ron Ruppel, treasurer, also will be reviewed. Further details will be discussed by local divers planning to attend a New Year's Eve dinner-dance, sponsored by the St. Louis Scuba Club, and those expected to travel in March to a club dive at Key Largo in the Florida Keys. Anyone interested in scuba diving is invited to attend Sunday's meeting and learn more about current activities, Lamm said.

SHIED, CAR LOOTED
Darrin Obermer, 1827 Third St., Madison, reported last week an air compressor was stolen from a storage shed at his home and an AM-FM eight-track stereo and two speakers were taken from his parked auto.

Unprotected school crossing criticized

City officials initiated a program yesterday to supplement the city's list of substitute school crossing guards after an incident at Nameoki School Tuesday in which no crossing guard was on duty.

Mayer Paul Schuler said steps would be taken to assure an ample list of substitutes after a resident of the Nameoki School area told the council in a regular meeting Tuesday night that he believed a school crossing guard is essential on the Pontoon Road crossing at all times.

Randy Smith, 1717 Venice Ave., told the council that his wife had taken his child to Nameoki School Tuesday morning, and that when she arrived, no crossing guard was on duty.

"My wife let our child out and was ready to leave when she saw some children trying to work the traffic signal and get across the street," he said. "She parked the car and helped the children across the street. She then went in the school to notify the principal that there was no guard."

Smith said his wife later called the police department and suggested an officer be assigned to guard the crossing, but that no one was on duty at noon.

"She learned that the crossing guard had called between 6 and 7 a.m. to inform officials she would not be there," Smith said, noting that "my child leaves about 6:30 a.m.—but when my wife arrived there was no one on duty."

"I think it is imperative to see that there is a guard at all times, especially in this weather," he added. The damage suits the city has now would be nothing compared to what would happen if a child was killed."

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said he was aware of the incident and that the woman crossing guard at the Nameoki

School had called between 6:30 and 7 a.m.

"So did four others," Veizer added. He said that three officers already had been assigned to other schools and "there just wasn't enough manpower to go around." He said he understood that at one time the principal at the school served at the crossing.

Clyde Boyd, alderman of the Third Ward, commented that recall a previous occasion in which there were so many substitutions. He said his department usually has a list of substitutes.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward, told the council, "If we don't have enough substitutes, then I think it is time we started a recruiting drive."

Veizer said he was unable to recall a previous occasion in which there were so many substitutions. He said his department usually has a list of substitutes.

Alderman Warren Decatur asked Veizer if it were possible to call on civil defense workers to fill in on such emergencies.

Veizer noted that the civil defense workers "are only for training purposes."

One alderman noted that civil defense workers would not be covered by the city's liability protection.

Schuler said the matter required attention and remarked that "We'll see to it that every crossing is covered tomorrow."

Police summoned

Granite City police were called to the Hope Clinic, 21st and Iowa Streets, at 11:25 a.m. Tuesday and were told a woman protester had been interfering with patients attending the clinic.

The institutional membership includes U.S. dental schools, Canadian dental schools, advanced educational institutions, hospital programs, auxiliary educational programs and the federal dental services.

Officers talked with a woman outside carrying a sign saying, "Abortion is murder," and passing out anti-abortion literature. She was told to continue picketing, but was warned to stay on the sidewalk and not to interfere with patients.

Seminar on local government unemployment insurance rules

The Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs and the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security will co-sponsor nine seminars this month to acquaint local-level government officials with new unemployment insurance legislation and how it affects their units of government. The first seminar will be held Monday, Dec. 12, in Freeport. The final will be at the SIUE University Center here from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 21.

The seminars are in response to Public Law 94-566, recently passed by Congress, which requires all states to provide unemployment insurance coverage to state, local, domestic and agricultural employees.

The Illinois General Assembly acted Nov. 9, 1977, to conform state law to the federal mandate.

If the state had failed to act by Jan. 1, 1978, a series of penalties with serious economic consequences would have been invoked against Illinois under the terms of the federal law.

The unemployment insurance seminars are designed for all units of local government.

Topics to be presented will include:

(a) Why state legislation to cover local governmental employees was necessary.
(b) The basic management needs of a local system and the rights of the employer and employee under the system.

(c) Information that local officials will need to make informed decisions as to the local financing of their unemployment insurance costs, i.e., contributions versus reimbursement method. This decision must be made by Jan.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

31, 1978.

A panel of knowledgeable staff members will be available to answer questions after the introductory presentations.

There is no charge to attend the seminars. No advance registration is required. Dates and locations will include: Dec. 13 at Grays Lake College of Lake County and

Thurs., Dec. 8, 1977 Page 19

Glen Ellyn-Holiday Inn.

Dec. 15, Oglesby (Peru)-Illinois Valley College.

Dec. 16, Macomb-Western Illinois University.

Dec. 19, Champaign-Ramada Inn.

Dec. 20, Harrisburg-Southeastern Illinois College.

The Department of Local Government Affairs and the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security will hold an additional series of seminars at a later date to provide a complete local government management system for their unemployment insurance program.

$1,495 loot stolen in house burglary

Items valued at $1,495 were stolen during a burglary at the home of Raymond Lewis, 2418 Madison Ave., between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday.

A neighbor reported seeing someone on the front porch of Lewis' home about 10 a.m. Monday and spoke to the man, who said he wanted to buy a couch on the porch. The man said if he could not buy the couch, he would take it.

The neighbor said the man appeared nervous, but talked slow and "dumb." He was described as about 25 years old, about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, having collar-length frizzy blonde or light brown hair and wearing a black coat and blue jeans. He gave the neighbor a name and said he lived in Kirkpatrick Heights.

The neighbor then left with the man still on the porch. Lewis' daughter returned home at 2 p.m. Monday and found the rear door open, lights on and some mud in the house, but did not know a burglary had occurred.

Lewis reported at 5:23 p.m. Monday that missing were a $500 gold set of underwear, a $800 camera, a $180 movie camera, a $35 camera, a $400 stereo receiver and turntable and about $90 cash.

Forest Service summertime jobs

A listing of summer jobs with the U.S. Forest Service and the National Park Service and Bureau of Land Management is available at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Placement Office, according to Placement Director David R. Van Horn. He said those wishing to apply for these summer jobs must do so before Jan. 15.

The Civil Service Commission, which announced the jobs, said the positions are in grades GS-1 through GS-4 and require college study or experience in specific occupational fields. Applicants must be 18 for some of the jobs and older for positions involving law enforcement and public safety.

University Placement is in the Rendleman Building, Room 0233 (692-2800).

Real tax reform may require cut in expenditures

By RICHARD L. LESHNER
President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce
In his iconoclastic book "Plagues & Peoples," author William H. McNeill divides the critics that prey on man into two classes: microparasites and macroparasites.
The former are the virtues, bacteria, etc. The latter are governments.
In either case, McNeill points out, the most successful of these parasites are those that maintain themselves at the least expense to their hosts. That is, if you expect to live off the milk from your cow, it makes sense to take good care of the cow.
Conversely, diseases — and governments — that treat their hosts harshly threaten their own ability to survive.
A disease that kills too quickly wipes out all the available hosts in a short space of time and then has nowhere else to go. A government that takes too much from its subjects reduces their ability to earn future income, with which to pay future taxes.
All of which is a long way to back into an essay on tax reform. There is, obviously, a point somewhere between zero taxation and 100 percent taxation at which incentive is sufficiently penalized that the total tax take of the government begins to decline, even with higher tax rates.
An enlightened society will see that the tax burden remains below that point.
Within this limit, whatever it is (and some experts think we may already have reached it), there are innumerable ways to juggle the figures. And juggling the figures is often what tax "reform" comes down to.
The game is not an easy one to play, even for the most dedicated and conscientious. There are tradeoffs everywhere. Here are just a few examples:

— Simplifying the language. Sounds like a good idea. But a tax code that is easier for the layman to understand may also be less precise. And the lack of precision may make tax evasion easier for the sharpies.
— Ending "loopholes" that mostly "benefit" the rich. Charitable contributions and tax-free state and municipal bonds are usually included in this category. Trouble is, they benefit a lot of people, not just the rich. The local governments and the charities need the money. If they don't get it from "the rich," they will have to get it from you.
— Taxing capital gains as ordinary income. Capital is the money that makes money. Taxing away is like taxing the cow's feed rather than her milk.
— What kind of reform would I favor? First — and above all — it's time for an across-the-board tax cut. Such a move would help businesses and individuals to save a buck.
From these savings would come the capital to invest in new or expanded enterprises. And from that investment would come more jobs, increased productivity (which is anti-inflationary) and, ultimately, higher tax revenues from a bigger economy.
There are several other changes that would promote savings and investment. A more liberal depreciation allowance and a 12 percent investment tax credit would encourage business to modernize and expand. Elimination of the double tax on corporate dividends would help, too.

Some of these suggestions are rumored to be included in the Carter Administration's "tax reform" package. To that extent, I can support it.
But there are other rumors about what's in the package that sound dangerous, petty, inequitable or a combination of all three. One of these is the proposal to cut the ceiling on the deduction for mortgage interest and other interest on personal loans.
The ceiling would be a high one at first. That's the sugar coating on the pill. But don't think it won't affect you eventually.
If housing prices continue to rise at the current rate (thanks to inflation and other causes), it won't be long before the "high" ceiling becomes uncomfortably low for most people.
Then there's the plan to withhold taxes from the interest on savings accounts and dividends, at the rate of 20 percent. This would be a severe blow to retired people who need the income from their savings to live on. Even if they owed no tax, they would have to wait until the end of the year to get their money back.
Finally, there are the proposals to tax health insurance and other "fringe benefits." Can you believe it? The very same people who fret about the high cost of health care want to make it still more expensive for you.
How will it all come out? It's too early to tell. But there's one thing you can count on: Don't expect much tax relief if you're in that broad "middle income" range.
That's where the money is, in this country. And the tax "reformers" know it. There's only one route to a significant, lasting tax cut: Cut government spending.

Filcoff resigns city post

George Filcoff, city attorney of Granite City since June 1, 1973, submitted his resignation of that office during a meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.
Filcoff is to assume his duties as an associate judge of the Third Judicial Circuit on Dec. 31, a post to which he was appointed Nov. 9 by Chief Circuit Judge Victor J. Moske.
In letting to the council, Filcoff made his resignation effective as of Dec. 19, and said:
"The experience as city attorney has been enjoyable and rewarding. When I assume the judgeship, I know the problems of the city will be understood more fully because of such experience."
"Since this will be my last council meeting as city attorney, I want you to know that I will not forget those of you I have worked with and leave with the knowledge that the city has grown substantially under your leadership."

Bonds sold to build new plant

Construction of the new Feralloy Corp. plant in Granite City will get under way as soon as weather permits. It was reported Tuesday night to City Council members.
Final financing arrangements for building the new steel processing plant were made in Chicago Monday and Tuesday with the signing of $800,000 worth of city industrial revenue bonds.
Mayor Paul Schuler and City Clerk Robert Stevens signed the bonds at the Continental Trust Bank which has bought the bond issue. They were accompanied by Roger Seppy, St. Louis, regional vice-president of the Feralloy Corp.
The new plant will be built on a tract of land south of 25th Street and the railroad tracks. While the city helps finance the plant, the corporation will operate it under a lease agreement that will require the bonds and interest without obligation to the city.

Pay is halted for committee members

Members of the Community Development Committee of Venice no longer will be paid $30 a month, following action taken at the Venice Council meeting Tuesday night.
"It has been our custom as is in other cities to pay a little something to these people who serve on this committee, but I have been informed under new regulations this can no longer be done," Venice Mayor William Ebersold said.
"The committee won't be really affected, as these people were not serving for the $30. They want to help make Venice a good place to live," Ebersold said.
The McKinley Toll Bridge report showed for the month of November 1977 a total of 270,708 vehicles crossing, for a daily average of 9,024. According to Bridge Manager Thomas Fields, traffic is up by 2,773 vehicles per day over November 1976.
In other action, the council approved a Tuesday, Dec. 13, Christmas dinner for senior citizens; authorized two street lights at 1245 Pine St. and in the rear of 1230 Oriole St.; revised the National Flood Insurance ordinance to include

Change in election board plan defended

Governor James R. Thompson has defended his amendment veto of legislation that would have split the appointments of eight members of a reorganized State Board of Elections between the governor and another statewide elected official from the opposite political party.

Thompson's change in House Bill 26, a product of the fall session of the General Assembly, assigns all eight board appointments to the governor. Four would be Republicans and four Democrats, with a three-fifths vote of the Senate required to confirm them.

The governor said the House bill "represents neither the intent of the Constitution nor wise public policy."

"The proposed appointment procedure is an unwarranted, unwise and mischievous dilution of the executive power of the governor," Thompson said.

"Fragmentation of the appointment power among executive officers is the most damaging flaw in this bill," Thompson wrote in his amendatory message.

"The drafters of the Illinois Constitution did not contemplate or intend that other constitutional officers of the executive branch exercise appointment powers that extend beyond the immediate jurisdictions of their respective offices."

"Under House Bill 26, it is possible that the comptroller or the treasurer would be called upon to make half of the appointments to the board."

"The Constitution, in describing the powers and duties of the comptroller and treasurer, clearly intends that they be restricted to their respective fiscal responsibilities."

"The unique appointment process envisaged by Bill 26 is prompted by an irrational fear of domination of the electorate machinery by one governor."

"If that process were to become law, it would mean that the accountability to the public for the character and quality of the board would be divided."

"The prospect of diminished accountability has, in the past, always dissuaded us from acceptance of an appointive system such as proposed in this bill. It is a logic I continue to find unassailable."

"Traditional legislative checks on the abuse of the appointment power, such as Senate confirmation of appointments and provisions for staggered terms, have withstood the test of time. These checks will preserve the integrity of the election system," the governor said.

Additionally, Thompson said constitutional officers other than the governor could not remove their appointees, even for misfeasance. Removal power, Thompson said, is assigned only to the governor by the Illinois Constitution.

He did not veto the bill in its entirety because the latest Illinois Supreme Court deadline for the legislature to reorganize the Elections Board is Jan. 13. The legislature convenes Jan. 11.

"Adoption of the changes I am recommending would provide the fastest means to creation of a valid board within the judicially-established timetable," he asserted.

Martin infant dies

Elizabeth Erin Martin, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Margaret) Martin, 910 W. Chain of Rocks Road, was stillborn at 6 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Others survivors include two brothers, Paul and Steven Martin of Granite City; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Rosemary) Martin of Cahokia and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Stephanie) Lizar of Granite City.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Stinson sees faster technological gains

George A. Stinson, chairman, National Steel Corporation, on Tuesday made the following statement regarding the Carter Administration's plan to aid the domestic steel industry:

"The plan devised by the Solomon Task Force and approved by President Carter is aimed very effectively at a number of the difficulties facing the steel industry."

"The most significant part of the program represents an innovative approach to speed up the enforcement of the anti-dumping provisions of the 1974 Trade Act, and thus to give American steel companies an opportunity to compete on fair terms in this market."

"The effectiveness of this plan, however, will depend on how the trigger price is fixed. If the determination of this price is fully consistent with the provisions of the Trade Act, it can well result in the elimination of a major part of the dumping of steel in this market."

"The administration of the plan will require a carefully developed program on the part of the Treasury Department, and it will be possible to judge its effectiveness only after a trial period of some six months."

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City will name a third Madison County member of the Metro-East Sanitary District during a special meeting of the Madison County Board at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

A special meeting of the five-man sanitary board will be called for Saturday with six members present.

"Will the real board member please stand up," may be the name of the game after Hagnauer's appointment of a third Madison County resident on the board, since the third St. Clair County member, Robert Eastern, refuses to relinquish his seat and has filed suit to block Hagnauer's appointee from being seated.

Under state statutes, the county having the highest assessed valuation within the district boundaries is to appoint three board members and the county having the lower assessed valuation is to appoint two members.

St. Clair County has enjoyed the majority representation since the district's predecessor, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, was created in 1907. Population was initial factor.

Latest assessment figures show Madison County now has the higher assessed valuation in the district.

The law currently specifies that, in such situations, the chairman of the county board of the county having assumed the higher assessment is to appoint a resident of that county to the board when a term of a member from the other county expires. Eastern's term expired Nov. 30. During the annual reorganization meeting of the sanitary board Monday in East St. Louis, the board's attorney, John Sprague, told the board members that Eastern remains on the board until his replacement has been certified and seated, but that the validity of Eastern's vote may be legally challenged.

Although St. Clair County Board Chairman Barney Metz has reapointed Eastern to a new term, that appointment is considered illegal by Madison County officials, under the state law giving the board majority to Madison County due to the higher assessed valuation of its portion of the districts.

Eastern contends the state law is vague on which year's assessment should be used as the current assessment. He said figures showing Madison County with the higher valuation were based on 1976 figures and are not the current assessment figures.

Others note that 1977 assessments have been completed, but the figures have not been totaled and are not available, so the 1976 figures are the most current figures.

Sprague told the board Monday that, in his opinion, both Eastern and whoever Hagnauer appoints should be "allowed to participate" in sanitary board meetings and their votes should be recorded in the minutes, but they should not be formally seated.

He warned about using the vote of either to decide any important contracts for documents.

"All business must be conducted by a majority of the full board, so you need the votes of three certified members for any action. Be very careful of votes to be sure you have three who are definitely on the board."

"If you let a big contract with three votes, including Eastern, and it is found he is not legally serving on the board, the contract may be void," Sprague asserted.

He later commented, "If we have both of the contested members on the board, then we are sure we have the proper person serving, and the courts can then determine which one should be there."

There was a motion Thursday to officially seat Eastern and Board President Russell Robinson said, "I object to him being seated because of what the statute says, and the assessed valuation."

The motion to seat Eastern died for lack of a second, but Eastern was allowed to sit at the board table and his actions were placed in the minutes, over Robinson's objections.

Robinson said later, "I will continue to object to Mr. Eastern being seated or having his votes recorded, because I do not feel he is legally a member of this board."

"I will recognize a new Madison County member when he is appointed and will make every attempt to have him legally seated."

Robinson ordered Eastern's per-diem paycheck held until it is determined if he is serving legally.

He also told Chief Clerk Helen Christich after the meeting to withhold per-diem pay for the new Madison County member, when appointed, for the same reason.

Simplified income tax forms, wording

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Dec. 8, 1977 Page 23

(Press-Record-Washington Bureau)
The bite has not been removed from federal income taxes, but the process is being made more digestible.
While taxes may not be any easier to pay, most taxpayers should find it easier to determine their tax bill for 1977.
The blow may not be softened, but the tax forms are.
They now will come in pastel colors—blue for the Form 1040 used by 50 million Americans and pink for the 40 million who will be eligible to use 1040A.
More importantly, the content and format have been revised in an attempt to make them understandable to those who do not have a degree in tax law or accounting.

Target of most of the revisions is the 1040A. That is the form used generally by those who do not itemize deductions and whose income is $20,000 a year or less (or $40,000 for a married couple filing a joint return).
The number of computations and the lines on the 1040A have been reduced, and the language on the form and instructions has been revised, according to Robert Brauer of the Internal Revenue Service.
He is the man chiefly responsible for the format and content of the new forms.
He has been the assistant director of the IRS Tax Forms and Publications Division for two years and chairman of the Tax Forms Coordinating Committee for five months.

"Personally have to approve all of the forms before they go to the printers," he told the Press-Record.
Brauer said readability tests conducted on the 1040A show taxpayers should have an easier time this time than they have in previous years.
Tests of the instructions for the new forms show they should be understood by anyone reading at a 10th grade (high school sophomore) level, although some sections may be higher.

The instructions used last year required, on the average, reading ability at the 14th grade (college sophomore) level, Brauer said.
Substituting tables for computations regarding exemptions, general tax credits and standard deductions was one of the steps taken to ease the path for taxpayers.
Brauer said many taxpayers had difficulty with the simple mathematics of multiplying the number of dependents times the $750 per dependent exemption.
"This does not appear to be a mathematically-oriented nation," he concludes.
The language has been simplified in some areas where tests, complaints and erroneous forms indicated taxpayers did not understand seemingly common words.

The section, for example, which asks taxpayers if they want to "designate" $1 of their taxes for the presidential election campaign fund was changed to read, "Do you want $1 to go to this fund?" because of confusion and lack of understanding of the word "designate."
In some instances, entire sections of the instructions had to be rewritten.
Readability tests showed the section explaining the "Privacy Act" were written at a 20th grade level: that is the equivalent of a doctoral degree.

It was revised to be understood by someone at the 10th grade level or below.
The number of lines used on Form 1040A were reduced from 25 to 15—or 11 if the taxpayer opts to let the IRS compute the taxes.
"Our best estimate is that only about 1 to 2 percent let us compute it for them last year," said Brauer.
"That was due in part because we had not publicized the service; and, in part, because the taxpayers do not trust us. We're hoping to at least change that first reason."
By putting more emphasis on allowing the IRS to compute the taxes, Brauer is hopeful three to six more percent of 60 million eligible taxpayers will use that option.
One other change will be noticeable immediately to users of the 1040A.
In the past, it was printed on both sides of a 5 1/2 by 8 1/2 inch form; the new 1040A is printed on one side of a standard 11 by 8 1/2 inch form.
Although the new "Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977" was not limited to the 1040A, that form was the subject of most of the revisions because it is used by lower-income people, some of whose educational levels require more basic explanations, Brauer said.
There have been some changes in the 1040 used by those who itemize deductions or earn more than $20,000 a year.
In addition to new tax rates and schedules, the form has been designed in a step-by-step, make-the-calculations-as-you-go format.
The tax form still takes 66 lines on both sides of an 11 by 8 1/2 inch form, but taxpayers do not have to shift back and forth among sections.
The instructions for the 1976 have been rewritten and are being analyzed to determine the readability test level. There is no specific readability level set as a goal.
"We just generally follow the approach of trying to lower the readability to the maximum extent," he said. "We try to see how simple we can go."
The problem is one of balancing readability and comprehension with accuracy and compliance with the law.
The forms being used this year are the result of studies and tests conducted since shortly after the forms for 1976 were sent out in January 1977.
Invitations for comments on the forms were solicited through the Federal Register, and about 500 letters were received by the IRS' Washington office.
Public hearings were held in Portland, Ore., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Boston, Mass., representing diverse areas of the country.
The complaints were predictable—that the forms were too complicated.
The 50 technical employees in the Tax Forms Development Branch sharpened their pencils

ROBERT PRINCE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry (Lorene) Prince, has completed 293 hours study at the Colorado Law Enforcement Academy and is working as an investigator for the district attorney's office in Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo. He is married to the former Beverly Williams of Granite City.

New head of compensation commission

Governor James R. Thompson during the weekend named Rebecca Schneiderman, a 37-year-old Chicago lawyer, as chairman of the Illinois Industrial Commission.
For the past two years, she has been associated with the law firm of Pressman & Hartman, specializing in antitrust laws, securities laws, and matters involving Title VII (equal employment opportunity).

She served with the U.S. Department of Justice from 1967 to 1973 in a variety of capacities. From 1971 to 1975, she was a trial attorney, acting assistant chief, and then assistant chief of the Antitrust Division in the Midwest field office in Chicago.

Prior to her duties in the Chicago office, Mrs. Schneiderman worked at the Justice Department in Washington, D.C., first in the evaluation section of the Antitrust Division and then as assistant to the director of operations for the division.

In 1973, she received the John Marshall Award presented by the U.S. attorney general for her work as lead trial counsel in antitrust cases.
As commission chairman, she will serve both as chief judicial and chief administrative officer of the agency, which will handle 60,000 workmen's compensation cases this year. Her annual salary will be $32,000.

and drafted new forms.
The forms were tested with six groups of about 20 persons each, primarily senior citizens and lower-level employees of the IRS and other federal agencies.
The form-drafters had an opportunity to watch genuine taxpayers grapple with hypothetical situations and come up confused and questioning.
The tests were used in revising the forms, which eventually were submitted to Brauer's coordinating committee. That panel represents 10 sections within IRS. The committee recommended the final versions used.

Brauer is still not convinced the IRS has gone "as low as it can go" in making the forms more understandable.
"We have reduced it four grade levels," he said. "But I think we can still do better."
And after these forms go out in January he should have no shortage of suggestions from taxpayers.

New example of job growth related to the Tri-City Port

The Tri-City Regional Port District has gotten into the kind of habit its founders long ago foresaw—a regular pattern of new shipping and processing facilities at the port and on adjacent sites.

Latest announcement, this week, deals with the I. S. Joseph Company, Minneapolis, which will build a $1,800,000 grain pelletizing plant here. Grain byproducts will be made into pellet form as animal feeds for the export market.

Current, simultaneous construction of new facilities at the Tri-City Port has reached the $6½ million mark.

Record United Way allocations, 'overhead' kept to minimum

Record allocations yesterday by the Tri-Cities Area United Way underscore the positive approach being taken by local residents, employees, firms and organizations in solving the varied community needs not met by governmental agencies.

Basic administrative and campaign costs here amount to less than eight percent of the total United Way budget, an

If Congress enacts pending legislation to require that charities tell what part of their donations go for "overhead" costs, it will soon become even more evident that the Tri-Cities Area United Way and its autonomous member agencies are providing sound, efficient services in a manner unmatched hardly anywhere.

Best that assessor office be separate for foreseeable future

As noted here Monday, completion of the township hall in Granite City is enabling transfer of senior citizens, town assistance and special education facilities to the new structure, reducing the rent costs paid from taxes.

The space and design of the new building do not permit transfer of the assessor office at this time, but it can remain a future (not near future) possibility. In the meantime, the assessor staff is functioning well on Niedringhaus Avenue in adequate quarters easily accessible to the public.

It will be recalled that the township is granting rent-free offices to the Quad-City special education regional headquarters, for a specified period of years, in return for the opportunity to build the town hall on land formerly the site of Central Junior High School. The avoidance of cost in obtaining the tract justifies the allocation of space for the education office.

With room inside school buildings becoming more available, it might be possible within a few years for the special education staff to move into one of the Quad-City schools. If this were to happen, there would be ample space within the town hall for the assessor staff. But there is no urgency, because the existing situation of a Niedringhaus assessor location has much to recommend it on its own merits.

Privately-owned teenage centers succeeding in some areas

Ways of providing teenage social and leisure-time centers in an environment excluding alcohol, drugs and physical violence continue to be explored by the local prayer breakfast group.

While there are some church and club programs, community-wide centers have dwindled in the Midwest in recent years due to problems associated with law violations and abusive behavior.

But it was brought out here yesterday that privately-owned game-dance-dineconversation establishments are filling a need for acceptable evening and weekend activity in some communities. Through revocable memberships, disruptive conduct is eliminated.

The concept appears to be workable locally if administered to the satisfaction of parents, churches and law enforcement authorities. Many in the 14-20 age group indicated they would be eager to participate, and say the stipulation of adult supervision would not diminish their interest.

Voice for fathers being overlooked

To the Editor:

I am writing Illinois state legislators as follows—

If it is your inclination to support abortion, the decision process is simple indeed.

If I believe the least of abortion, and defend it entirely on the basis of individual rights. That is exactly what has been and is being done.

Whatever you do, don't consider fatherhood, the family or any religious beliefs. Don't blunder to make these considerations, for they will undo the very logic of your thinking in a minute.

All you male, chauvinist legislators (female legislators excepted, of course), jump on the bandwagon quickly and dump the responsibility for procreation totally in the laps of the opposite sex.

Your consideration for women's rights demands this. Make it the law of this land that childbirth in the United States of America is the full and total responsibility of the women in isolation.

It is their unilateral choice, and theirs alone. So your current laws in this state are:

Oh, and by the way, while you're at it, better realign the divorce courts in this country, too, so that they appropriately fit the context of your decision on abortion.

After all, if a man has nothing whatsoever to say about childbirth, he has absolutely no responsibility for the products of the process, either.

That sound ridiculous? Of course it does. But ridiculous or not, the very precept of authority and responsibility lies at the root of this controversial issue. And you cannot, legislatively, have your cake and eat it, too.

If I believe the least of abortion, I know what I would do. But I am not. Therefore, any decision on this matter by me is purely a personal one. But I would like to pass on to you the full reality of the decision you must make, as a legislator.

It's a fact that the bedrock of our democracy has been the nucleus of the family unit. The mores of our society have flowed from that source for centuries.

Granted, we have made innumerable compromises on individual rights issues over the years to minister to the total social needs of our people in the family context.

With this elementary philosophy of government, we have flourished as a nation.

The decision on the abortion issue cannot be made in isolation. It divides so much deeper than that.

Resolution of the abortion issue will do one of two things:

1) If not supported, it will reestablish and reinforce the foundation which has provided the springboard for our natural growth, health and progress—the family unit.

2) If supported, it will lay the cornerstone to an entirely different social foundation.

There is much more at stake here than the emotional issues which only tend to cloud the real decision. I am deeply concerned about those stakes.

So, to avoid the impression that I lack the courage of my convictions, I will take a personal stand, as a citizen and a taxpayer.

I am totally opposed to abortion as a legalized, individual right. However, should my personal feelings prove to be that of the minority, I insist, as a taxpayer—should abortion persist as the law of the land—that the burden of responsibility, financial and otherwise, rest solely with the individual empowered to make the decision.

Social responsibility begins where individual authority ends, and vice versa.

I am perfectly willing to pay taxes to support human beings who are unfortunate enough to be abandoned by their parent (parents).

Conversely, I am totally unwilling to spend one cent of my tax money to support the irresponsible pleasures of individuals who would murder rather than accept the byproducts of their promiscuous and ill-considered personal behavior.

If what you want for our country is an "I" society, so be it. I believe I have made my "I" position, as an individual citizen, perfectly clear.

And unless I miss my guess, there are a lot more than 51 percent of the American people who feel exactly as I do. I'll let the next election document that statement.

Use safety men to assist deputies?

To the Editor:

It seems that everytime a major crime is committed in Madison County, the sheriff's answer is, "I don't have adequate manpower."

I won't deny that the sheriff's department is understaffed, but what I cannot understand is why the sheriff doesn't take advantage of his own Assistant Directors of Public Safety program, which provides him with an additional $4,000 annual salary.

This program consists of about 25 uniformed, well-equipped volunteers whose effectiveness has been severely restricted by the sheriff's refusal to allow them to cover the amount of territory they are capable of covering.

There are also about 20 more men who have been waiting almost a year for the sheriff to start another training class, which is required by him before they can go on the street.

Perhaps the sheriff's answer to this could be that these men are to enforce traffic laws only and that they have received formal training only in this area.

Although this is generally true, these men, with their completely-equipped squad cars, can be additional eyes and ears for the department.

A large number are ex-law enforcement officers or are currently in college law enforcement programs. Several of them could be considered more qualified than many of the present deputies.

Another answer to this lack of training could be the sheriff creating an on-the-job training program in which the directors of safety ride with a regular deputy as an observer, until such time as the sheriff feels they are qualified.

I understand that, for reasons of their own, many deputies have objected to this idea.

Many object to the volunteers working at all.

It sounds reasonable to think that if these volunteers' areas were expanded they could free the regular deputies from a lot of traffic work and enable them to concentrate their activities in the rural areas, where their protection is badly needed.

It also stands to reason that these men could be subject to call to back up the regular deputies at the time when the nearest available assistance is in the other side of the county.

It is up to the concerned citizens who need this added protection to voice their opinion to the sheriff.

This is the only way in which they will receive their money's worth from the 4,000 tax dollars the sheriff receives for the safety program.

Tree-lighting ceremony

The "Granite City Spirit of Christmas" celebration at the city hall began officially at 2 p.m. Wednesday in a ceremony lighting the 26-foot Christmas tree in the lobby.

Nineteen students from the Lake School special education classes of Mark St. Ivany and Ann Hildebrand participated in the tree-lighting program. One of the students, Kerry Flynn, 14, of 529 East Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, who was selected as the 1977 "Spirit of Christmas child," flipped the switch which lighted hundreds of bulbs on the giant tree.

The Granite City High School South Advanced Mixed Chorus sang a wide variety of Christmas carols and Joe Schuler, son of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, presented the star for the top of the tree to a city employee who climbed on a ladder across the top balcony opening and placed it on the tree.

City Treasurer Nick Petrillo handed out candy canes to the children present.

Kerry Flynn then presented Mayor Schuler a wreath of pine cones and cuttings, which is one of many being made in his Lake School class. Schuler said the wreath will hang on his office door throughout the holidays.

Jim Stack, assistant Granite City street superintendent, coordinated the program and the decorating of the giant tree, donated by Attorney Lance Callis from his farm in Calhoun County.

The ceremony was the first of several events planned for the city hall lobby during the holidays. At 2 p.m. tomorrow, youngsters in grades one through four from Emerson, McKinley and Washington schools will hang hand-made ornaments on the tree and the chorus of Granite City High School North will sing carols.

Invitations also have been sent to 60 churches in the area seeking groups to carol nightly, Sundays through Wednesdays, while the lobby is open to the public.

Trust Bank announces Dress-A-Doll winners

Wanda Mansfield, 3702 Franklin Ave., is the first prize winner in the 10th annual Dress-A-Doll Contest, sponsored by Trust Bank and Savings Bank.

Ernest A. Karandjeff, board chairman and president of Granite City Trust and Savings, announced the winner today and invited the public to inspect the dolls, which are on display in the bank lobby.

About 45 dolls were dressed by area residents in this year's contest, Karandjeff said.

The second place winner is Gladys Spier, 548 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, and recipient of the third place award is Marie H. Symek, 2054 Fourthview St. The dolls will remain on view until Tuesday, Dec. 13, when they will be presented to various civic and charitable agencies in the Quad-City area for distribution to less fortunate youngsters at Christmas, the bank officer said.

Mrs. Mansfield's entry is a colorful version of a Mexican doll, dressed in a traditionally-styled costume.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

The Mitchell Fire Department extinguished a fire in a basement bedroom, at the home of Elvin Meyers, 525 English St., Mitchell, at 3 a.m. today.

The fire was contained to the bedroom, but heavy smoke damage was done to the upstairs, according to Fire Chief Lee Paul. Cause of the fire is not known. Fifteen firemen were at the scene for over two hours.

$21,500 damage in house fire

Granite City firefighters braved weather in the teens to extinguish a fire at the home of Gary Dugan, 1741 Poplar St., which caused about $21,500 damage Wednesday morning.

A wood-burning stove is believed to have overheated while no one was at home and a wall of the five-room home ignited at 10:25 a.m. Wednesday. The house was gutted and may be destroyed.

Firemen were on the scene three hours and 35 minutes. Damage was estimated at $15,000 to the building and $6,500 to its contents. Matthew Kadaka of Godfrey is the owner.

Firemen also extinguished a fire at the home of Eckert Muller, 10 Rivera Drive, at 4:10 a.m. today. The fire was contained to the attic and damage was estimated at $500 to the building. The cause is not known, but an electrical short-circuit is suspected. Firemen were on the scene one hour and 10 minutes.

Youth Center needs heavy coats, pants

The Emergency Clothing Center, sponsored by Coordinated Youth Services, is in critical need of clothing, sizes 4 to 14, especially coats.

Due to the current harsh weather, there is an urgent need for heavy winter coats, also pants, long-sleeve tops and shirts, and underclothing.

Persons wishing to donate to the CVS emergency project are asked to contact Gladys Bass, at 876-2383, or deliver the clothing to the Coordinated Youth office at Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues (former Graham's book store).

"Any heavy clothing will be put to good use by the young people," Mrs. Bass said.

duties of consultant in the 1964-65 school year.

A leave of absence also was granted to Mrs. Katherine Gregus, teacher at Parkview School, effective from Jan. 3 to Feb. 24.

In other board action, Virginia Monahan and Coy Reeves were employed as a temporary cafeteria worker and custodian, respectively, and Debbie Holt was named to the intermural sports at North High School as an extra curricular assignment.

Board members also agreed to meet on Tuesday, Dec. 20, and to hold one meeting next month, on Jan. 17. Thomas Miosky, board president, led a discussion on a change in the current 1977-78 school calendar in relation to the holiday vacation. The board decided to add Jan. 2 as an additional school holiday. All students will be dismissed at the close of classes on Wednesday, Dec. 21, to return to a regular schedule on Tuesday, Jan. 3.

Fuel adequate, Energy Chairman Lucco finds

Despite current frigid temperatures, the prospect is good for adequate fuel supplies throughout Illinois this winter, according to an announcement this week from Representative Joe E. Lucco (D-Edwardsville), chairman of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission.

Rep. Lucco based his estimate on reports from fuel suppliers during a just-concluded series of regional energy outlook meetings held by the IERC and Chambers of Commerce at Waukegan, Edwardsville, Rockford, Rock Island and Decatur.

Lucco said, "In contrast to fuel shortages during last winter's record-breaking temperatures, Illinois seems to be in good shape for this cold season—with the exception of a few interruptions in the supply of natural gas reported in central Illinois, south and east of Springfield."

At the state energy outlook meetings, fuel suppliers reported that Illinois' fuel picture is brighter than for the national scene.

Coal, oil and gas reserves throughout the state were generally reported as probably adequate for anticipated winter and spring needs.

Circle 835 hosts Christmas party

The Slavic Serenaders of Madison provided the entertainment at the annual Christmas dinner party of Our Lady of Fatima, Circle 835, Daughters of Isabella, held last week at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Mrs. Paula Prince, decoration chairman, designed and created centerpieces in gold and white made of pine cones and gold ornaments. The tables were covered with white net cloths, trimmed in gold and the main table was accented with burning gold tapers in a trio of hurricane lamps.

Seated at the center table were Regent Florence Portell, the Rev. Henry Schmidt of St. Elizabeth Church, Father Ralph Scherrer of St. Mary's Church, Josephine Knezevich, Peggy Crnkovich, Marionese Lambert, Clara Schilling, Vera Carey, Irma Manning, Dorothy Hoedebeck and Ann Pieper.

Mrs. Portell gave the welcoming address and Father Scherrer offered the invocation. Rev. Scherrer spoke on the "human" side of the event.

The musical group was introduced by Mrs. Knezevich, entertainment chairman, and after the initial program members and guests joined in singing traditional Christmas songs.

Mrs. Portell presided at the punch table, which was decorated with an angel arrangement. She was assisted by Mrs. Vera Carey, Mrs. Anne Pare and Mrs. Rosalie Johanningsmeier.

Travelers told of Danube River trip

At the Travelers Abroad meeting at Prather Junior High School last week, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Rouland gave an illustrated lecture on their recent trip down the Danube River.

The air flight took them from St. Louis to Southern Germany, via Reykjavik, Iceland, and Luxembourg. From their arrival point, the remainder of their journey was by bus.

The Danube, longest river in Europe, begins in the Black Forest in Southern Germany and flows eastward and south through six countries into the Black Sea at the Russian border.

In Salzburg, Austria, the Roulands took many pictures of Hellbrunn Castle, built in the 18th Century by the bishop-prince, who had absolute power and was both spiritual and temporal ruler of the surrounding area.

More of a grandfather than a priest, the ruler had many hidden water spouts in the palace gardens, all activated by water pressure from springs in the snowy mountains above the city. By manipulating hidden levers, the ruler could suddenly douse his visitors, who were mostly young women, the speakers related.

After visiting Schoenbrunn, the summer palace of the Hapsburgs, the Roulands continued along the Danube into the Iron Curtain countries.

Soon they learned that crossing the border into a communist country is entirely different from entering Germany or Austria.

You have to see it to believe it, Mr. Rouland said.

Taking photographs is absolutely forbidden at the border, but is permitted, with restrictions, once you are cleared and some distance from the frontier, they explained.

For a band of tourists to get clearance takes a minimum of two hours, the Roulands said. Soldiers with machine guns constantly are marching around.

These precautions are to keep their own people from escaping and not to keep out immigrants, as there are no vast hordes clamoring to live behind the Iron Curtain, the local couple stated.

Budapest, the capital of Hungary, was once two cities, Rouland explained. Separated by the Danube River, Buda, on the west side, is on high bluffs, while Pest, on the east, faces a flat flood plain like Granite City.

In Buda, among the hills, there are 123 hot springs and many bath houses. These natural hot springs were used by the Romans over 2,000 years ago.

In the Hungarian restaurants, the food is good and reasonably priced. The tourist soon finds that the famous Hungarian goulash is really a beef stew and that silovitz is a plum brandy, the travelers said.

All food stores are owned and operated by the government and supplies on the shelves are limited, it was noted.

Yule pottery sale by group

The Wagner Pottery Association at SIUE will hold a Christmas pottery sale Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Edwardsville. The sale will be at 316 N. Main St. each day from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Functional and sculptural items will include bowls, mugs, casseroles, pitchers, floor planters, hanging baskets, storage and canister sets, vases, covered jars, flower pots and other pieces of ceramic sculpture.

The Wagner Pottery Association was organized two years ago by art and design students at SIUE to sell and exhibit their products. One-third of the profits received at the pottery sale will be used to bring visiting artists to the campus for lectures and workshops and to purchase materials not normally funded by the department.

Another third of the proceeds will go to support various scholarship funds at the university, and the remainder will be used to help support the ceramics studio.

GARAGE BURGLARY

Jack Elliott, 2844 Grand Ave., reported this week a burglary at his home in which two tool boxes and tools were stolen from the garage. An inventory of missing items is being taken.

Folk dancing group formed

A love for dancing is the main ingredient needed to become a member of the Folk Dance Society, a newly formed group at SIUE.

Jeannine Kulfinski, one of the organizers of the dance group, said it meets every Thursday from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in Room 3115 of Classroom Building Two.

"We are focusing on dances we know," she said. "They are mostly international dances. A lot of people are interested in square dancing and folk dancing. In time, we hope to split the group."

When it performs a foreign dance, the members also study the history of the dance and the country where it originated. The group eventually hopes to perform some of the dances for the public.

"We are one of the few folk dancing organizations which depends on live music as opposed to tapes. The group does both dancing and singing. We dance to the music as we sing," she said.

Sara Carpenter, instructor in the Department of Health, Recreation and Physical Education, is the adviser.

The dance society is open to everyone. Non-students may be honorary members but will not be allowed to vote. Quarterly donations will be requested for purchasing of new albums. Further information about the organization may be obtained by contacting Andrea Schreiber at 636-4861 or Jeannine Kulfinski at 636-1002.

Set up food stamp center for miners

A food stamp center for striking coal miners opened Wednesday at the Illinois National Guard Armory, 802 West Main St., West Frankfort. Public Aid Regional Director Lawrence E. Duff explained, "we hope the strike will be settled soon, but we are preparing for an anticipated increase in applications."

Center hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and will take applications from miners who live in Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Jefferson, Jackson, Perry, Saline, White and Williamson counties. Miners who live in other counties should apply at their local Public Aid office.

Public Aid staff will determine eligibility. Those who qualify will be mailed authorization to purchase cards three working days after the determination date.

Patrick honored at Lions meeting

The Pontoon Beach Lions Club was the host club with the meeting being held in the southern region four, zone three of Lion District 1-G, which includes Lions Clubs of Edwardsville, Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach.

The cabinet consists of the district governor, four regional deputy district governors, ten zone chairmen, 25 district committee chairmen, and the cabinet secretary-treasurer. Patrick delivered the welcoming address to the more than 100 members and wives from the 1-G district which covers 12 southwestern counties and Lions Clubs.

Patrick gave the address on behalf of the Pontoon Beach Lion president Rich McIntosh, who was unable to attend.

During the report of region four, zone three chairman Paul Breihan of the Edwardsville Lions Club, said that Patrick was noted for his outstanding performance as president of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club during the 1976-77.

"We were ready to write the Pontoon Beach club off," Breihan said, "but now the Pontoon Beach club is one of the leading clubs in the district and we owe that to Lion Patrick's leadership. The club was down to four active members, in debt $10,000 on their park and in danger of losing their charter with no light at the end of the tunnel."

"Lion Patrick established three goals when taking office in July last year: to find some sort of regular revenue for his club, to save the Lions Park from going default to the bank, and to make the club more representative of this community." "He accomplished all three of the goals that he set forth. I feel that he should be awarded and recognized for his efforts," Breihan concluded.

Lion Harold Malloff, past district governor during 1976-77 and present Lions 1-G CARE chairman from Mendon, Ill., asked for the floor and agreed that some sort of special recognition or award should be presented to Patrick.

"I remember when I was governor and visited the Pontoon Beach club, during the end of my term. They had four members on hand and were confused on what they were going to do with their park and the future of their club. I was just praying that the club would hold on until my term ended in June 1976 so that I wouldn't miss being a 100 per cent governor. It was after my term, but I am glad this young man came along and turned the Pontoon Beach club around like he did," Malloff added.

Region Four Deputy District Gov. Jim Riskovsky of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club, who recently transferred from the Madison Lions Club, said he agreed that some special award should be given Patrick and that he plans to prepare the paper work to submit Lion Patrick's name for the Lions International Service Award and have it ready for the next cabinet meeting to be held in February.

The Lions International Service Award is presented to individual Lion members for their outstanding contribution in reorganizing Lions Clubs. Riskovsky said that no one in District 1-G has ever received this award and to the best of his knowledge no one has within the state of Illinois.

Riskovsky also said that the recommendation has to be approved by the Lions 1-G cabinet and then forwarded to Lions International Headquarters to be approved by the International Board of Directors.

Patrick told the Press-Record that he was completely taken by surprise by what the cabinet members said about him. He also said that he was attending the meeting with a touch of flu and running a fever, and was unable to give a formal thank-you statement at the time. Patrick said he plans to write a thank-you letter to the cabinet, which he will ask Riskovsky to read for him at the next meeting.

2nd aide for trainable class at Venice school

The Venice Board of Education has hired a second aide to assist in the trainable mentally handicapped (TMH) class.

Mrs. Joseph Schmidt, 620 Lincoln Ave., Venice, was employed to help the TMH teacher.

The additional aide is needed in the class due to introduction into the program of two new severely handicapped students, Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers said.

During an abbreviated meeting, the board clarified its position on allowing school district personnel on leaves of absence to continue to retain school insurance coverage when the individual personally pays the insurance premium. Premium payments cease to be the district's responsibility during leaves of absence, it was stated.

Venice pupils will be dismissed after Wednesday, Dec. 21, for the Christmas-New Year's holidays, returning to school on Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1978, it was noted.

Scheduled pickup of children along bus routes, now operated by the Venice School District, will be evaluated to make sure the time schedule is adequate, it was decided.

'Gypsy' musical here Saturday

The Masquers community theater group will present the final performance of "Gypsy" at the Granite City High School South Auditorium on Saturday. Curtain time will be 8:15 p.m.

Directing the production is James Swanick of Collinsville. He is a teacher at Grigsby Junior High School in Granite City and has been active with the Masquers since the early days of the organization.

Swanick has directed such shows as "Little Mary Sunshine," "Tom Sawyer" and "Butterflies Are Free." He last appeared on stage in the Masquers production of "Fiddler on the Roof."

Granite City residents involved in the production are Bob Lloyd and Diane Lewis, who recently appeared in East Bank's production of "The King and I," plus Jennifer Miles, Clint and Linda Parrish, Shirley Sobolewski and Mark Stephens.

"Gypsy" is the story of the rise to stardom of a famed strip tease dancer, the late Gypsy Rose Lee, and her domineering, over-protective mother, Rose. It is suggested by the actual memoirs of Gypsy Rose Lee.

In the role of Mama Rose is Gigi Dowling, Collinsville, who was in one other Masquers production, "George M." and has appeared with a number of theater groups throughout the area, including The Looking Glass Players and Bellevue Community Theater.

She has appeared in such productions as "How to Succeed in Business," "The Odd Couple," "Barefoot in the Park" and "The Glass Menagerie."

Employed as a social worker for the Advocacy Council, she is working on her master's degree in social work at St. Louis University.

Gypsy Rose Lee is being played by Cheryl Pikoriatis, also of Collinsville. Employed as the financial aid administrator at Bailey Technical School, St. Louis, she has been appearing in Masquers productions since 1970.

Her most recent roles have been in "Little Mary Sunshine" and "George M." She is currently serving on the board of directors as secretary of the organization.

The Masquers is a community theater group whose membership extends throughout the entire Southwestern Illinois area.

Individuals interested in the theater may contact the president, James Swanick of Collinsville, at 344-1823.

Social Security, supplemental claims and service by telephone

A new telephone claims and service unit called Teleservice is being introduced Monday, Dec. 12, by the East St. Louis Social Security district office, 650 Missouri Ave.

The new service will be available by calling 274-4100.

There is also a toll-free number for residents of St. Clair, Clinton, Washington and Monroe counties and the southeastern part of Madison County. That number is Enterprise 1555.

The Teleservice unit will complete by phone the necessary applications for all types of Social Security and Supplemental Security Income benefits.

It also will answer any questions or problems concerning the programs Social Security administers.

According to John Nathan, district manager of the East St. Louis office, the Teleservice unit is intended to save people the time and inconvenience of making a trip to the Social Security office.

Nathan said, "Most matters that can be handled in the office can be handled just as effectively and more quickly and conveniently by calling Teleservice."

Teleservice lines will be open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The number is listed in the telephone directory — in the white pages under U.S. Government and in the yellow pages under Government Office.

Traffic injuries, mishaps decline

Traffic accidents resulting in injuries to drivers or passengers declined substantially, as well as the number of persons injured, during the 11 months of November, according to statistics compiled by the Press-Record.

The November month was the third consecutive month in which no traffic fatalities have occurred in the area, the report shows. The last fatal accidents were reported during August when four persons died in area traffic accidents.

Statistics show that 38 accidents resulting in injuries occurred during November, down from 60 reported during the same month a year ago while the number of persons hurt in those accidents totaled 59, down from 76 in November 1976.

The report does not include accidents that only involve property damage.

While no fatalities were involved in November traffic accidents, three deaths resulted from mishaps in November 1976.

November accidents brought to 604 the total number of injury accidents during the 11 months of the year, compared to 714 injury accidents during November 1976.

A proportionate reduction in the number of persons injured during the 11 months of the year is shown, with a total of 886 persons injured in the 11 months period, compared to 1,014 persons injured in the same period last year.

A total of 20 traffic fatalities have occurred this year, through November, while 23 fatalities were recorded for the 11-month period last year.

Canned goods admission to North dance Friday

With the Christmas season in full swing, the Student Council members of Granite City High School North plan to fill between 30 to 35 food baskets for needy families and earn enough money to buy new clothes for three needy children.

Among the several money-earning projects at North will be a dance Friday from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. in the school cafeteria, with music by Jay Barry.

Admission to the dance is $1.50 or three cans of food. More than 100 students and faculty members have entered a ping pong tournament to be held Saturday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. to raise money. Both double and singles will be played.

Marcy Bunch is Student Council president, and Harry Cook is faculty adviser.

Praise for new approach to education of veterans

The Veterans Administration's GI Bill program has been cited for its smooth operation during the annual fall enrollment period by the Education and Rehabilitation Advisory Committee.

Created by Congress to advise VA Administrator Max Cleland on problems and procedures connected with the agency's education programs, the committee is headed by Oliver E. Meadows, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans and former staff director of the House Committee on Veterans Affairs. Serving on the committee from Illinois is Dr. Glenn E. Heck, chairman, Education Department, National College of Education, Evanston.

Meadows is one of seven new members appointed by Cleland. Dr. Heck was already a member of the panel.

In a report to the VA administrator, the committee said it recognizes the newest version of the GI Bill as the possible model of government-aided veterans' education programs for many years to come.

The bill provides that servicemen and women who joined the armed forces after Jan. 1 of this year must contribute part

Delinquency prevention discussed

The Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (SILEC) Regional Mobile Team In-Service Training unit presented a one-day regional inter-agency juvenile justice training conference last week at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Participants totaling 123 included personnel from 26 youth-serving and other agencies, and police juvenile officers from 20 police departments in Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington Counties.

Conference topics were: "The Status Offender: Today and Tomorrow (Existing Alternatives)"; "Implications of Moral Development Theory for Juvenile Justice"; "Call for Papers on Juvenile Justice"; "Police Intervention: A Delinquency Prevention Technique"; "Education's Role in Delinquency Prevention"; and "The Future Role of Unified Delinquent Intervention Services (UDIS) in Juvenile Justice in the SILEC Region."

The keynote address was presented by Robert Hayes, 20th Judicial Circuit juvenile judge, on "The Future of Juvenile Justice in Illinois—From the Bench."

Speakers representing agencies spoke on existing programs that deal with special needs of youth. These programs represent some of the services provided in an effort to divert children from unlawful acts leading to arrest and other legal actions, it was noted.

The planning committee for this conference included members of the Metro-East Juvenile Officers Association as well as representatives from private and state agencies and traditional alternative education.

The Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission's regional mobile team training project is supported by contributions from local governments in the SILEC region and by a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

Candidate Vaughn as sheriff would emphasize cooperation

Donald Vaughn, 46, of 2180 Northland Drive, owner and operator of Vaughn's Pharmacy, 1836 Delmar Ave., and partner in Midtown Pharmacy, 2037 Johnson Road, Monday evening formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic primary nomination for Madison County sheriff.

Vaughn, a pharmacist since 1956, is well-known throughout Madison County and St. Clair County professional circles. He has been a partner with Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler in Midtown Pharmacy in 1956 and earned his pharmacy diploma in 1956 from the St. Louis College of Pharmacy.

A native of Granite City, Vaughn was educated in the public schools here. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve from 1949 to 1952 and was on active duty from July 1950 to February 1952 as a machine gunner.

He served 13 months in Korea in the First Marine Division and was honorably discharged as a corporal. He earned the Purple Heart and several other medals.

Asked why he wants to run for sheriff, Vaughn said, "Political administration has always interested me. I am a college graduate and believe I possess a certain amount of intelligence."

He noted that study for a pharmacy degree requires study in political science and economics as well as chemistry and other fields.

"From a pharmacy degree, there are several other bachelor degrees which can be received by taking a few more courses," he said, adding, "It is the most diversified degree available."

He also noted that Lieutenant Dave O'Neal and Mayor Schuler are pharmacists and alumni of the same college as Vaughn. O'Neal was twice elected as sheriff of St. Clair County.

Vaughn has served as both internal and external vice-president of the Granite City Jaycees and is to be installed as vice-president of the Holy Name Society of St. Elizabeth Church. He is a charter member of the Bi-County (Madison and St. Clair) Pharmaceutical farm. Reynolds is lying on a ladder stretched across the railings of the second floor balcony. Over 3,300 colored lights were strung on the 18-foot tree. The tree protrudes more than six feet above the floor of the second level of the building.

ARSON SUSPECTED
The remnants of a flare and a Coleman gasoline can were discovered at the southwest side of the Starlight Tavern, 1225 Madison Ave., Mason, where apparently a fire was started deliberately, causing a section of the exterior siding to burn, the owner reported during the weekend.

Burglar gets in unoccupied house

Relatives of the owner of an unoccupied house in the 2300 block of East 25th Street, checking this week found the house had been ransacked by someone who broke a basement window to gain entry.

Among the items missing were a weather radio, checkbook and a picture from the wall.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
Marriage licenses have been issued in St. Louis to D. L. Azar, Granite City, and K. L. Giebe, St. Louis; T. J. Clay, Granite City, and P. A. Kehres, St. Louis; and C. W. Barber, Madison, and E. M. Hooker, St. Louis.

'Clown' aids instruction

"All the world loves a clown" is proving true for Donald Darnell, an associate professor of elementary education who is on sabbatical leave from SIUE. Because of Darnell's work as a clown in Canada, the Canadian government recently sent him to England to perform for Canadian students studying abroad at Canadian military base schools.

His clown performance is founded on the belief that children are accustomed to reading instead of listening, and so he puts his stories into action to increase children's observational and listening skills. In addition, he wants to know children's sense of justice, which is part of "value clarification," as he describes it. In the clown act, Spinner, played by Prof. Darnell, is told by a ringmaster to do a number of tasks to get a job. For example, he is told to walk a tight rope and to ride a unicycle, tasks which he cannot do.

The ringmaster becomes incensed and sends Spinner to a box, on which the clown stands with his thumbs. Although he cannot perform the tasks which the ringmaster expects, Spinner can still do something. During the ringmaster's absence, he can perform all sorts of tricks.

UP HERE, SAVING ENERGY ISN'T AN ISSUE. IT'S A NECESSITY.

We've been building new homes in the Wausau, Wisconsin area for 18 years. Homes that can survive winters where 10", 20" even 30" below are not uncommon.

So today's demand for energy-efficient homes is nothing new to us. Our homes are designed and built to be economical, comfortable and efficient. We use fiberglass insulation, caulking, weatherstripping, foam seals. And care in construction. Our homes are built light and right and are in construction. Our homes are built light and right and are in construction.

The result is a Total Performance Home. Perfected and proven over 18 Wausau homes. In 150 new home designs, and 25,000 homes. Stop in for a tour of our Model Home and a free copy of our Total Performance Home booklet.

Medical-surgical nurse specialization

A specialization in medical-surgical nursing in the master of science nursing program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been approved Tuesday by the Illinois Board of Higher Education at its meeting in Chicago.

The SIUE School of Nursing will offer the specialization, which will provide students with extensive course work in medical-surgical nursing and prepare them for advanced nursing in that field.

The School of Nursing presently has one specialization in its master's program for psychiatric-nursing mental health nursing.

It is estimated that 12 students will enroll in the first class, which will graduate at the end of the two-year program. Eventually, as many as 20 students will graduate each year from the program.

In other action, the board appointed IBHE member Merle R. Vontz of Peoria to serve as chairman of the Commission on Educational Television. Last month, the IBHE appointed 12 members to the commission.

World of work will be taught

A grant to encourage the teaching of economic concepts in area schools has been awarded to the SIUE Office for Economic Education.

The $4,000 grant, awarded by the National Science Foundation through the Illinois Council on Economic Education, is to fund a "world of work" economic education program in this region.

The project is under the direction of John Clow, associate professor in the department of management. He said the grant is part of a statewide program aimed to develop economic competency in schools, from kindergarten through grade 12, through experiences focusing on work.

The grant will enable Clow to help teachers develop economic-related materials they may use in their classes. Representatives from industry, labor and government are to be used to demonstrate how economic concepts are applicable to life in today's world.

GOP chairmen endorse Sharon Sharp for office

Sharon Sharp, a Republican candidate for secretary of state, was endorsed by the Illinois Republican County Chairmen's Association at a meeting in Springfield during the weekend.

In a resolution, the organization praised her for service to the GOP over the years as a volunteer worker, county chairwoman and party leader.

Her campaign for secretary of state, which began with a statewide fly-around on Sept. 12, was characterized as "a strong and vigorous campaign for all the people of Illinois" in the resolution.

At the meeting, the Republican county leaders also went on record as fully supporting her so that "all women will have a strong voice in state government."

At the present time, no women have announced for statewide office on the Democratic ticket.

• We want you to get what we advertise, so we plan ahead to have ample supplies. If a sell-out occurs, just see our Cashier for a 30-day sale-price "RAIN-CHECK".

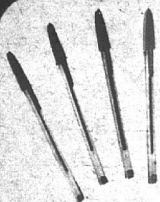

• Our policy: Each advertised item is required to be readily available for sale at or below the advertised price at all stores listed, unless specifically otherwise noted in this ad. (Our "As Advertised" store signs point them out to you.)

• Special sale-priced prices are indicated by "Sale" or coupons. Any others are our low everyday Walgreen prices. Some regular prices quoted may vary at some stores. (Right reserved to limit quantities on all items.)

Sometimes it happens: Sold Out. Ordinarily, you'd get a "Rain Check", but at Christmastime so many holiday items are ONE-TIME BUYS, not reorderable. So be early, and be sure you get what you came for!

Free Johnson & Johnson First Aid Kit

When you send for information about the Americare® Hospitalization Compensation Policy, you will receive this American Republic First Aid Kit by Johnson & Johnson. This modern kit contains Dermicel adhesive bandages, Tylenol for fast, safe pain relief, antiseptic towelettes, Band-Aid adhesive bandages, and a comprehensive first aid instruction folder.

It is yours without charge or obligation, of course.
Mail the postage paid card for yours right now.

American Republic will provide benefits in the amount of $60 a day beginning the first day you are hospitalized for covered sickness or injury...

... and the policy is guaranteed renewable for life.

Since the average stay in the hospital is about seven days,* it is important that you buy a hospital policy that starts paying the first day you are hospitalized for covered sickness or injury. The Americare® Hospitalization Compensation Policy is basic first day coverage which can be valuable to any other supplemental policy you might own that only offers protection after the third, fifth or even after the seventh day of hospital confinement.

Yours for a lifetime.

You will be covered as long as you live and continue to pay your current premium on time. Your policy cannot be cancelled nor will we fail to renew it because of health reasons, regardless of the number of claims.

You can never be singled out for a rate increase—the only way your rates can ever be changed is if the same change is made for all policyholders in your class.

Why you may need Americare in addition to other hospitalization insurance you may have.

According to the American Hospital Association the average cost per patient day in the hospital reached $151.20 in 1976. In fact, this cost has increased over 300% in ten short years.

You probably have group insurance or a policy purchased from your agent. Keep it. You need it.

A hospital stay of only a few days can deplete your savings and leave you in debt. Your Americare protection can help you meet your hospital-stay related expenses and supplement the coverage of your present insurance. Perhaps the knowledge that you do have freedom from a degree of worry about money problems could even help speed recovery.

Benefits are paid direct to you, or if you wish they will be sent to your doctor or hospital.

This policy (Form A1881) provides benefits in addition to any other insurance you may have. It even pays benefits in addition to Workmen's Compensation and Medicare.

Send in the card below for a FREE gift and complete information about Americare, the policy that provides protection for the short or the long term hospital stay, even up to 365 days.

EXCEPTIONS:

This policy does not cover any sickness that first manifests itself less than 30 days from the date of issue; accidents occurring prior to the date of issue; or hospital care due to war, mental disorder, maternity, dental work, or in a U.S. Government or Veterans Hospital (except in Colorado, Missouri or Minnesota); nor convalescent homes, rest homes, nursing homes, or hospitals for the aged, drug addicts or alcoholics (except in Minnesota).

Act Now! Don't gamble with your future.

According to the latest published figures, one person in seven will go to the hospital this year. Right now, while it is fresh in your mind — please fill in the postage-paid reply card below and mail it today. You will receive the FREE gift shown and complete information on how you can apply for this Americare Hospitalization Compensation Policy.
